WOMAN ROUGH
RIDER REFUSES TO DO ALL WORK

Mrs. Cecelia Bernal, bronchobuster, uncomplainingly rode "a rough and woolly" at all the rodeos and horse wrangles on the coast west of here, but her family exasperated her when Blmer, her rival, reminded her for not completing the sledding of her horse her cup of sorrow overflowed and she resolved today she filed suit for divorce, charging her husband with cruelty.

Mrs. Bernal, in her complaint, recites that, though she has pleased with her husband to go to work and earn money to support her,
he has refused to do so, preferring instead the luphazard profits of the horse riding contests. Even these, of late, became too strenuous for him, and she declares, he would often permit her to do all the riding and reap all the gain himself.

RANCHER TAKES
BEAR TO VISIT
SAN FRANCISCO

GROVELAND, Nov. 8.—James Lovefield is in San Francisco today, accompanied by his pet bear.
He placed it in his car and the cub sat on the seat beside him just like a well-trained dog. It was found four miles above Groveland when a wee mite of a thing only a few days old, whining and crying because it couldn't find its mother. Lovefield raised it as a pet and now at the age of six months it is as playful and gentle as a fat puppy. It is a great favorite with the school children.

Suit Taken by Man
With Spurious Check

A stranger selected a suit of clothes at 1111 Broadway and in payment for it gave the clerk, C.
H. Wilkinson, a check for $35. Wilkinson left the suit on the counter and asked the customer to wait a minute. He went into the office and telephoned to M. J. Silva, owner of the store, and asked if he should accept the check as payment for the suit.

While the clerk was telephoning
the stranger walked out of the store with the suit. He left the check on the counter. It was drawn on the Independent Cleaning and Dying Company and was made payable to John O'Brien. It was signed Morris Underbergen.

The police were notified and Un-

CORONER ORDERS
VETERAN'S BODY
BE DISINTERRED

Search to Be Made for Poison
On Request of Soldier's Mother.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The body of Harry Meyers, veteran of the world war, who died July 28, 1920, at Letterman Hospital, will be disinterred at Salem Cemetery tomorrow on orders from Coroner T.
J. W. Leland, so that an investigation may be made to determine if he died of poison.

The investigation will be made at the instance of Meyers' mother, Mrs. Betty Aronstein, who has sworn in an affidavit before City
Attorney Norman Malcolm of Palo Alto, a copy of which was sent today to Coroner Leland. In this statement Mrs. Aronstein declared that her son died as a result of drinking tea in which a drug had been placed by his wife, Ruth Meyers, of 654 Second avenue.

The contest between wife and mother-in-law has been heard in several local courts. When Meyers died, physicians at the hospital certified that his death was due to natural causes. Nevertheless his mother, who hastened here from the East, has been interviewing various city officials regarding her poison theory since that time. She claims

$25,000 TO OPEN
WORK ON SKYLINE
ROAD IS PASSED

Bill for Extension to Redwood Peak Is Sent to Print
by Council.

Actual building of the proposed extension of the Skyline boulevard to Redwood Peak was pressed today, when the city council appropriated $25,000 to start the work, and the ordinance was passed to print.

According to Commissioner Bacous of the street department, Realty Sindicato, Villa Site and Development Company and H. C. Brougher have given him deeds for a strip 60 feet wide and 17,859 feet long, so that the road can be built. He urged that work start immediately.

"The money is provided in the budget," said Baccous. "Besides, it gives work to the unemployed in the winter. We can soon work in soft ground at a cost of 60 cents per yard.
If we wait till next summer it will cost $1.10 per yard."

The county will contribute half the cost of the road, and that she attempted to recover a portion of it.
At the instance of Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. Aronstein was arrested and appeared before Police Judge Lazarus, charged with attempted extor-sion, but the case was dismissed.

to Baccous.

Baccous says that all the rights of way for this scenic boulevard are arranged for except one tiny strip, which he says, he expects to be given soon.

The council also appropriated $1050 for repairs for Engle 3 house in West Oakland.

W. H. Hator, Perkins street property owner, asked permission to withdraw his tract from the single family residence zone as he wishes to build an apartment house. This matter was referred to the city planning commission.

'SHOOT TO KILL'
ORDER TO MEN
HUNTING BANDITS

Robbers Hold Up the Illinois
Central Train, Get $400.
Overlook $100,000.

Chicago, a few miles out of American Falls, late last night, a lone bandit held up the diners and robbed them of cash and jewelry, according to reports here early this morning. The bandit made no attempt on the forward coaches, but contented himself with repeating the sticking up in the observation car. He wore no mask, it was said.

The robber, it was believed, came aboard at American Falls, waiting until the train had reached a stretch of desert country to make his coup.
Disappointed with his haul, the bandit is said to have expressed his discontent with "the buns who travel first class these days," before he dropped off the train and became one of the desert's shadows.

WAGE CUT AGREED UPON BY WESTERN RAILROAD GROUP

Managers Announce Intention of Immediately Posting Notice of Reduction.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Managers of the western group of railroads met here yesterday and decided upon immediately posting of notices of wage reductions of 10 per cent. according to an announcement today.

The roads represented at the meeting included the Santa Fe, Great Western, Rock Island, Northwestern, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Great Northern. In the proposed cuts all departments would be affected and committees were appointed to draft the notices immediately so the roads may go before the labor board and ask an early hearing.

Following this meeting the National Industrial Traffic League announced that meetings would be held tomorrow and Wednesday to ask that the railroads press their claims for wage reductions on the basis of rate reductions to shippers. The league represents many of the important shippers of the country.

Resolutions for presentation to roads have already been drawn and include three salient points:

That railroad wage scales be put on a level corresponding with those of other industries.

That wage reductions and rate reductions take place simultaneously.

Abrogation immediately of national agreements made during the period of federal control.

The labor board has announced that wage reductions will not be considered until after it has passed upon working rules and schedules, but the roads decided to press their wage reduction efforts so that these might be brought to the attention of the board as early as possible, it was said.

Settlement of the threatened railroad strike voted by the railroad brotherhoods on October 30, followed a statement by the railroad labor board that wage reductions would not be passed upon until after questions regarding rates and working conditions had been decided.

THORNE was arguing for the appeal of the guaranteed return to the railroads, but admitted that the carriers must be permitted to reduce costs in justice to themselves and shippers.

1000 to Take Part In Christmas Fete

Officials of the Oakland recreation department have started work on the annual Christmas pageant, which will be held on December 17 and 18 at the municipal auditorium, with more than a thousand actors participating in the big pageant.

The theme of the pageant will be a plea for a "Christmas spirit" throughout the year. The actors will include Santa Claus, dancing dolls, animal toys, jumping jacks and marching Christmas trees. Songs and dances of the various nations will be added features.

A complete musical program of Christmas carols and special dance numbers is being arranged by Glenn S. Woods, supervisor of music for the Oakland schools.

Prisoner Serving Term For 'Buddy' Freed by Uncle Sam

(By Associated Press) LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Nov. 8.—Penniless, Harry W. Haley, an overseas war veteran, was at liberty here last night under a war department order releasing him from the federal disciplinary barracks where he served five months of a six months' sentence for desertion imposed upon Thomas G. Jones, his "buddy" and the man who saved his life while the two men were with the American expeditionary forces in France.

Haley came to the barracks under the name of "Jones," his reason for serving the sentence being that he wanted to repay part of the debt he felt he owed Jones in saving his life. Jones, who is said to be married and living in Canada, is being sought by federal authorities.

Because he was not the real offender, Haley was released from the barracks without the usual railroad fare and small compensation given prisoners.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Dependent of financial difficulties, Wilbur Stiles, 44, millionaire Ventura county bean grower, committed suicide at Camarillo today, according to a report from Ventura, by shooting himself. Stiles was secretary of the California Bean Growers' Association.

BURGLARS ESCAPE FROM POLICEMEN IN RAIN OF LEAD

Three Are Detected Trying to Rob Store at Richmond.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—Three men caught in the act of breaking into the clothing store of S. Abrahamson, 829 Macdonald avenue, at 10 o'clock last night, escaped in a hail of bullets from the pistols of three policemen, leaving behind them an automobile stolen earlier in the evening from Dodge, Sweeney & Co., in Berkeley.

The three drove the car up to the store and proceeded to break in through a rear entrance. They were seen by Frank Schoeder, a cigar dealer across the street, who reported them to the police. Officers Dan Cox, Charles Geridon and G. W. Bentley responded in time to find one of the men drilling through the rear door. He made a dash for it and Cox knocked him down, but he got to his feet and fled, with Cox shouting as fast as he could work his gun. The other two acting as lookouts, made their escape in the crowd on the street.

The car left behind was a Buick, with a new license plate, No. 244,519. The plate had been switched for the Dodge-Sweeney plate, which was No. 22,804.

More than 1000 British ships were destroyed by American privateers during the war of 1812.

$1,390,000 WILL BE SPENT TO ADD TO WATER SUPPLY

President Edgerton of East Bay Water Co. Outlines Development Plans.

Extensions and improvements, looking toward a near perfect service as possible will be made by the East Bay Water Company at an expense of $1,390,000 in Oakland, $440,000 in Berkeley and $150,000 in Alameda. Edwin O. Edgerton, president of the company and former head of the State Railway Commission, declared in an address before the Business Development League at its bi-monthly luncheon meeting at the Hotel Oakland.

Upon a modern water supply and excellent service a city thrives, but on the other hand, with poor service and lack of assurance of a future supply of water a municipality remains dormant, cannot grow, Edgerton said in speaking of the value of the water company to the city as a public utility. Edgerton spoke on "The Water Question."

GROWTH CONDITIONS. Any city, to grow industrially and socially, Edgerton declared, in discussing water supplies must have at least a guarantee of a water supply sufficient to last twenty-five years. At present there is sufficient water to last the city for ten years, he should be twenty-five. There can be no absolute guarantee of safety for a city until such an amount is made possible for the East Bay water, the second largest water district in the world.

Continuing, Edgerton declared that the future water supply of the continental side of the bay rests upon the conservation of the water in reservoirs, lakes and water sheds, and that conservation was the one great worry of the company. Two or three moderately dry years the soil could place the city in a situation that they were in three years ago when water was only procurable for human use, because of the three dry years which visited the country-side in three years running.

SAN PABLO DAM. The new San Pablo dam recently completed northeast of Berkeley at a cost of $3,000,000, is capable of holding fourteen billion gallons of water, sufficient for human use in every East Bay community. Edgerton said in stating facts concerning the company's first steps toward the ultimate conservation of the distribution system at a minimum cost. Other similar improvements will be made within the next three to six months, he said.

Sunday-School to Entertain Parents

PIEDMONT, Nov. 3.—An opportunity for closer acquaintance among parents of Sunday school children and between the parents and the Sunday school teachers, is to be offered at a reception this evening in the auditorium of the First Baptist church. The gathering will also be in the nature of a reception to Rev. Charles D. Milliken, who recently returned from a six weeks' visit in the east.

Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander is chairman of the arrangements committee, and Mrs. H. D. Hadenfeldt is chairman of the program committee. Mrs. A. M. Merrill, who will have charge of the refreshments, will be aided by members of the Women's Guild and by mothers of pupils in the Sunday school.

Forged Prescription Lands Man in Jail

John Brody, who was arrested on Saturday while trying to secure narcotics on a forged prescription, is still being held by the police for further investigation. He was arrested by Patrolman James Dolan when he presented the forged prescription to Fred Osgood, owner of a drug store at the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to have it, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, big and small, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 3/4 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy cures a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, loosens the membrane, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "3/4 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Mary, Ind.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach,
Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chrolo, "the stomachic," is exceedingly dangerous and suffers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid and secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bilestrated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bilestrated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But it is powerful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the cause of the trouble and the food is digested naturally and healthfully without need of poisons, pills or drastic medicine.

Get a few ounces of Bilestrated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the Bilestrated form is not a laxative. This plan is the best you can follow. It is the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark" brown "taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the intensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

BIG VOTE BEING POLLED IN S. F. MUNICIPAL FIGHT

100,000 Ballots Are Expected
7 Tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Tens of thousands of San Francisco's men and women voters cast their ballots at the city's 506 election booths in the municipal election of 1921 today. This morning it was predicted that 100,000 persons would visit the polls, and extensive preparations were made to handle the situation conveniently.

The ballot contains the following offices to be filled: Police judge, tax collector, recorder, public administrator, board of education, supervisor, city attorney and city and county treasurer. There are sixty-nine names on the ballot. Five are candidates for police judge; three for tax collector, three for recorder, five for public administrator, seven for board of education and forty-four for supervisor. George Lull has no opposition for city attorney, nor has John E. McDougald for city and county treasurer.

The polls have been open since 8 o'clock this morning and will close at 7 o'clock tonight. Immediately after the closing of the polls, the ballots will be rushed to the auditorium where they will be tabulated and counted by hundreds of clerks. Tables have been arranged on the main floor of the building to accommodate 500 counting teams of three persons each. None but candidates, watchers and newspapers' representatives of the floor. The galleries will be open to those who hold tickets issued by the registrar, and unofficial returns will be flashed on the screen as rapidly as returns from the various precincts are completed. The election will cost the taxpayers approximately $60,000.

Wife Given Divorce On Cruelty Grounds

Mrs. Johanna Crawford, 1321 Perall street, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce because, she alleged, her husband threatened to kill her with a revolver and on one occasion she had been forced to flee from her home to save her life. Superior Judge Joseph Koford granted her the custody of one child, aged 7. She Crawford was married in 1913 and separated last June.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 8.—The principal building of St. Stanislaus college, a Jesuit institution for the priesthood, located just outside of the city, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last night. The structure, five stories in height and of brick, cost $150,000, and was insured for $50,000. There was no loss of life, but firemen rescued Rev. Father J. Depotter, president, and Rev. Father Merriweather, the latter 83. Priests and students disregarded their personal property and endeavored to save valuable volumes in the library.

Doctor Is Sued by Patient for $10,200

Alleging he was burned and blistered by a liniment prescribed for rheumatism, Louis Battis brought suit for $10,200 against Dr. E. H. Barbera. Battis, who is a shipyard worker, declares in his complaint that on March 1, 1920, he called on Dr. Barbera for treatment and received a prescription from him, which was filled at an Oakland drug store. When he applied the received liniment he was badly burned about the neck, chest and arms so that he was unable to work for a month.

Mrs. Bergdoll Sends U. S. Bill for $10,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, who has been ordered to vacate "Bergdoll Castle," which the government maintains is owned by her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader, has sent the government a bill of $10,000 a year for her services as caretaker. Colonel T. W. Miller, alien property custodian, said when Mrs. Bergdoll had been directed to vacate, October 31, it was because she had maintained it was an effort for her to administer the property. She admitted "the property belonged to Grover," he said, and made a charge of $10,000 a year for administering it. My agents in Philadelphia informed me Mrs. Bergdoll did not vacate October 31 and that she claimed her reason for not doing so was on account of a certain illness she had contracted," he said. "Now we are informed she is not ill; but that her aged mother, who was doing the family laundry in the cellar of the Wynnedfield property last week, is the one who is ill." The statement asserts Mrs. Bergdoll's conduct is a "palpable effort to evade the law."

LAKE MERRITT TO BE DRAINED FOR DREDGING

Most of the water is to be run out of Lake Merritt and the dredging operations planned there will be performed by a dredger with just enough water under it to float the craft.
This was announced last night by Mayor Lavinia when he was formally dedicated by the mayor and members of the city council. We'll get most of the water out of the lake, says the mayor, and then we'll have a short pull for the dredger to reach bottom. We'll get the job completed in short order.
The first operations will be conducted in the north-western arm of the lake near the proposed Harrison street boulevard, which is first to be filled in. This will give the city its drive-in along the lake, outside of the present shore line.
Mr. Humphrey Davis sought no patent on his miner's safety lamp, but gave it to the entire world.

Gaelic Language Is Subject of Lecture

A spoken and written knowledge of the Gaelic language is a requirement for university entrance in Ireland, according to Miss Kathleen O'Brien, journalist and lecturer of Dublin, addressing the Mills College student body yesterday.
Dublin today, as in the fifth and sixth centuries, is being regarded as a field of learning. Miss O'Brien declared in outlining the history of the Irish renaissance of the last 30 years. Visitors found a million and a half of Gaelic-speaking people in the wild places in Ireland and searched out the old bards to obtain some 4000 airs which had been handed down from father to son in the beginning of the revival the speaker said.
"Ireland has always been Irish," she asserted. "Various peoples coming there have all been absorbed rather than conquered. Not only is music one of the great contributions of Ireland, but drama and poetry are being revived."

Oakland Boy Given Harvard Scholarship

Word was received here today that George McGill Vogt, formerly of Oakland, and a member of the graduating class of 1916 of the University of California has been awarded one of the Townsend scholarships for study in the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.
Vogt continued his studies at the University of California as a graduate student and lecturer at Cambridge, Conn., where from 1919 up until the present time he has been teaching at the Clovis high school. He is specializing in English and is now in his second year at that school.

Snowstorms Rage In North and South

OMAHA, Nov. 8.—A snow storm prevailed in parts of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota today. Temperatures went down, although they were not as low as the Omaha weather bureau anticipated yesterday when it predicted the storm. Twenty-two above at Valentine was the lowest officially reported for Nebraska. Omaha had 35 at 7 a. m., but later it became colder with predictions for a further drop tonight.
The fall was the first of the season here. It was heavy in Omaha and other parts of eastern Nebraska and western Iowa, but no interruption to rail or wire traffic was reported. The storm is moving east and south, the bureau said.

How large should a bank be?

When asked "How long should a man's legs be?", Abraham Lincoln replied: "Long enough to reach the ground".

The Bank of Italy believes that in these words of Lincoln is found the thought that answers the question "How large should a bank be?" It certainly should be large enough to meet the requirements of the people who live in the community it reaches.

The Bank of Italy is a California institution serving the important industrial and agricultural districts, through its statewide system of operation. Its growth and development should be limited only by the needs of the people of California for metropolitan banking facilities on a par with those available in the nation's great financial centers.

OLD ROMAN ROAD.
LONDON, Nov. 8.—The remains of an old Roman road, portions of a big palace and beautiful mosaics have been discovered by chance at Alexandria by workmen engaged in digging the foundations of a new building. Experts declare the ruins to be of the Ptolemaic period (about 300 B. C.) and believe them to be probably the site of a royal palace.

THIS COUPLE WELL TIED.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Floyd Fancett, twenty-one, and Miss Marian Hallock, eighteen, of this city, were married one recent afternoon. Mrs. Hallock, mother of Marian, objected, but becoming reconciled and apparently doubtful of the first ceremony, demanded that another marriage service be performed. This was conformed to the same evening, thus satisfying all concerned.

Eberle Is Named For Naval Board

LONG BEACH, Nov. 8.—Admiral E. W. Eberle, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, leaves for Washington today for temporary duty on the naval selection board to recommend promotions to the rank of rear admiral, captain and commander. The U. S. S. Buffalo, tender and repair ship, has been ordered to service in the Asiatic fleet. The Buffalo left San Diego yesterday for Mare Island for a few minor repairs. The U. S. S. Panther, now on duty in Asiatic waters, will return to this coast.

The hospital ship Mercy of the Pacific fleet was ordered to proceed to Mare Island November 12 for four weeks' overhaul.

GRATEFUL DOG PATIENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A dog limped into the Broad street hospital with an injured leg. A surgeon dressed the wound. Now the dog is well, but it refuses to leave the hospital.

Suicide Believed to Be An Oakland Man

MERCED, Nov. 8.—Although buried in an un-named grave in the county plot, the body of the suicide found hanging in the river bottom near Livingston, is now believed to have been that of William Anderson, an aged negro, who was brought to the county hospital last winter suffering from frozen feet. He left the hospital March 17. The hospital record shows that he was a native of Oakland, aged 64 years, and that the person to be named in case of his serious illness was Mrs. E. Vaughn, 2049 Market street, Oakland. It is believed the old man committed suicide last July, judging from the condition of the body. He was seen in the vicinity where the body was found during July.

POISON LETTER TRAGEDY.
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Three hours after she had received an anonymous letter attacking the character of her fiancé, Pearl Savage, a nurse, committed suicide by shooting herself.

FOOD, MEDICINE, SCARCITY MORE GRAVE IN RUSSIA

Doctors and Nurses Emaciated From Hunger; Hospitals Without Supplies.

TZARITZIN, Russia, Nov. 3 (By the Associated Press).—The lack of medicine in Russian hospitals becomes accentuated here. It is even worse than further down the Volga. Tzaritzin has five hospitals, none of which has a single grain of quinine or of any of the other simpler medicines, nor have they money with which to purchase nourishing food for their patients.

At the Second Soviet hospital for typhus patients, established here in a converted private residence, there are 50 patients with a lone woman doctor in charge, and with a few servant girls as nurses. She is totally without olive oil, camphor, alcohol, bed clothing or fresh garments. In the First Soviet hospital, at the outskirts of the city, there are 150 patients, but no medicines, no live soaps, no carbolic acid for washing the germ-infested floors.

The daily food for the convalescents consists of one dish of hot soup, one-sixth of a pound of meat and three-quarters of a pound of bread. The Soviet government formerly supplied all medicines free to hospital patients and the general public, but it ceased doing so some months ago.

Doctors and hospital attendants are thin and hungry despite the fact that Tzaritzin now is the best and cheapest food center in the entire Volga district. Even the public market is fully stocked. But, as in other Volga cities, at prices beyond the purse of most of its inhabitants.

The market has between the river and the railway station, a few of which may be seen from 5000 to 10,000 refugees in various conditions of underfeeding. They are living in cold mud. Many refugees are arriving from points as far east as

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information

"Will you kindly publish in The TRIBUNE the singular and possessive and plural possessive of the word sheep?" was a query that came into the Information Bureau of The TRIBUNE today.

They are both the same. The possessive plural and the possessive singular are "sheep's."

"Will you kindly publish a recipe for after-dinner mints?" was another query that came in recently. Melt fondant over hot water, flavor with a few drops of oil of peppermint, or wintergreen, and drop a coloring if desired. Drop from the tip of spoon on oiled paper. Confectioners use rubber moulds for shaping cream mints, but these are expensive for home use unless one is to make mints in large quantities.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and trademark names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the Bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

Orenburg, where the crops are thin. They are striving to reach Poltava and the Don district, but the trains are irregular, due to bad railways and to the "green army" bands, or non-Bolshevik peasants, who sometimes cut tracks and otherwise interrupt traffic.

Other than the small trading in foodstuffs, there is no business in the Tzaritzin district, nor is there any prospect of any. Its arms factory is idle.

Members of the soldiers of the red army themselves are hungry. Their pay and rations have ceased since the Russian civil war in the south has ended.

Breaking Telegraph Pole Injures Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Bernard Deasy, brother of Supervisor Con Deasy, who lives at 2398 Fulton street, was seriously injured today when a telegraph pole on which he was working suddenly collapsed, carrying him to the pavement. The accident occurred at Pine and Divisadero streets.

The fact that he did not fall from the pole but that it dropped with him at a slackened speed prevented him from being fatally hurt. He suffered a broken right leg, a compound fracture of the left elbow and numerous cuts and bruises.

Justice Angelotti To Be Dinner Guest

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—A tribute to the services of Chief Justice Frank M. Angelotti of the Supreme Court of California, who will retire from the bench on November 15 to become general counsel for the Western Pacific railroad, after fifteen years of service in the state's highest court, will be paid by San Francisco at a farewell dinner Thursday night at the Hotel St. Francis.

General invitations to the affair have been sent out. Yesterday Justice Angelotti presided for the last time over the court, as he sat upon the bench for the court's regular motion day.

HEALTH OFFICER WILL CLEAN UP S. F. CHINATOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—A request has been made to the Board of Supervisors to appropriate $5000 for a systematic and scientific clean-up of San Francisco's Chinatown, doing away with germ-infested passageways, musty vaults and rats. Dr. William C. Hassler, city health officer, announced his plans for a sanitization of the "local Orient."

Dr. Hassler declared that this does not mean that the sightseeing places of Chinatown, famous all over the country, will be destroyed, and that he realizes what the Chinese quarter means to San Francisco as a place where tourists may be stimulated with genuine thrills.

"Let Chinatown remain picturesque," he said today, "but let it be clean."

Berkeley Junk Man Sued for Divorce

THIEF SUSPECT AIDS HIS PALS; TAKEN HIMSELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Raymond Roach, 21, who is alleged to have attempted to break into the grocery store of Lee Rosenberg, Nineteenth and Capp streets, was captured by a posse of police from the Mission station today because he preferred to assist his two companions to escape before attempting his own getaway.

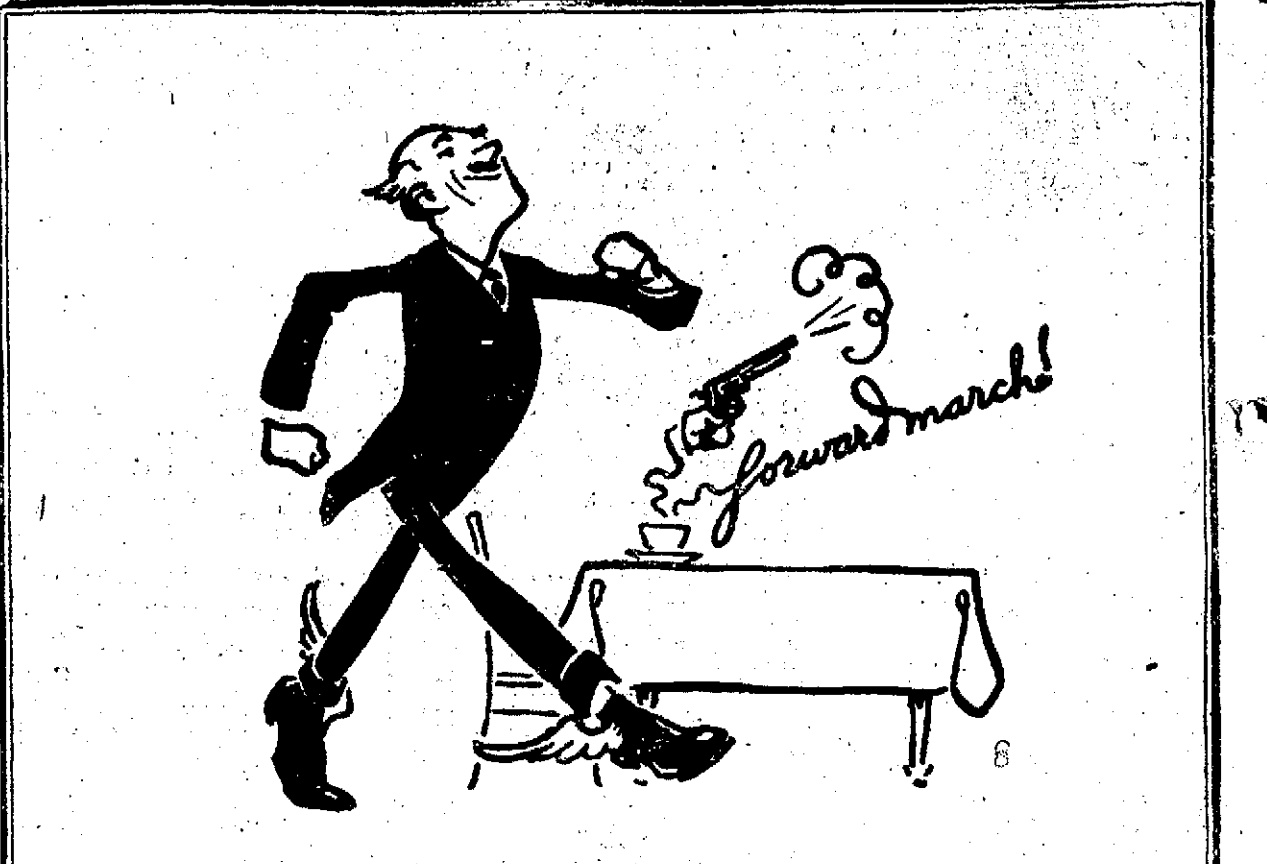

Answering a call from a resident near the grocery store, the patrolmen found the suspects in flight. After the police had fired several shots the fugitives took refuge in a yard. When the officers, with drawn revolvers, rushed into the place they found Roach alone, he having just finished "boosting" his pals over the high fence. He was charged with attempted burglary.

One of the men covered him with a revolver while his partner searched through his pockets. The men escaped by running through a vacant lot.

Much-Loved Priest Goes to New Church

ANGELS CAMP, Nov. 8.—After 20 years at Angels Camp, Rev. Father James Vaughn has been promoted by transfer to Colusa. His last Sunday here saw St. Patrick's church packed to the doors with members of all the churches here. Singularly enough, his last mass was the one he celebrated on his first Sunday in Angels Camp a fifth of a century ago. In St. Patrick's hall a popular farewell was given this kindly and lovable priest, practically the entire community, irrespective of church affiliation, being present. On behalf of the town at large, Charles Crespi presented Father Vaughn with a heavy purse of gold. His successor has not yet been named, but Father Flanagan of San Andreas will fill his place temporarily.

BAKERSFIELD HAD NARROW ESCAPE

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 8.—Had flames from the oil sump of the Richfield Oil Company refinery crept four feet farther November 3, the city of Bakersfield would have been destroyed. Clarence M. Fuller, Los Angeles, general manager of the company, testified at the hearing yesterday afternoon of Irving Solomon, charged with having started the fire.

Solomon was bound over to superior court by Justice F. W. Bunnell and his bond was fixed at $10,000.

Other witnesses testified that Solomon was hiding in the grass at the point from which the fire started. Solomon is said by Sheriff D. E. Newell to be an itinerant laborer, and he is said to have applied for work at the refinery before the fire started, but was not employed.

Fuller testified that the flames were dangerously close to a big oil tank when they were extinguished.

SAIORS IN RACE RIOTS.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 8.—There have been so many race riots between American and Japanese sailors on the waterfront that the police force in the shipping district has been tripled.

CHURCH WOMEN THANK HARDING

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Thanking President Harding for calling the Washington conference, the Methodist Women's Home Missionary society declared their hope that it would mark a great step toward world peace. This is the text of their resolution adopted at Providence, R. I., and sent to the President.

"The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, through its delegated body in annual meeting assembled, expresses its deep gratitude for your calling the conference on the limitation of armament. We believe it to be a momentous step in the development of right relationship between the nations. Representing a society of over 600,000 members, devoted to Christian activities in the interest of our nation, touching closely millions of homes, spending last year nearly three million dollars, we speak for Methodist womanhood.

"We have tested the horrors of war and realize the burden of war that follows every conflict, so we rejoice in all movements that tend toward world peace. We realize the vast funds expended in battleships and submarines, and that the delegates to this conference may turn this power into the constructive tasks of peace. May God's name be honored and His guidance be felt throughout the deliberations. We pledge you our hearty support and united influence to make effective the cause of righteousness."

Mrs. Farnham, Noted Social Worker, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Elma Cordelia Farnham, pioneer resident of this city, will be held from St. Paul's Episcopal church at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. Interment will be private. Mrs. Farnham, who had been in failing health for several months, died at her residence, 784 Kingston avenue, yesterday. She is survived by two sons and a daughter. They are: S. C. Farnham, 21; Eugene Metcalf Farnham and Mrs. Clifton Kroll. She was the widow of S. C. Farnham, widely known in the early history of the bay cities. Actively interested in philanthropic and social service work in this city, Mrs. Farnham was prominently identified with many such organizations, and until the condition of her health necessitated her retirement was officer or director in several. She was a leader in the early kindergarten movement supported by the wealthy women of Oakland before the public schools incorporated them in the educational system. Mrs. Farnham was active in Episcopal church work.

Theft of Auto Is Admitted, Say Police

Attracted by the fact that the machine which they were driving had the license attached by a piece of wire, Police Sergeant E. V. Brock last night arrested William Eralton and Elton Hennaghty at Seventh and Franklin streets, and took them to the city prison where they are held today for investigation. According to the police, after their arrest the two men admitted that they had taken the automobile from Woodland Sunday night.

Brook saw the machine and asked the two occupants to show a registration card or operator's license. They said that they had left them at their home in Woodland. After interrogating them further, Brock says the two men admitted that the machine was not theirs. Police notified the authorities of Woodland.

YOUTH WARNED AGAINST WHITE COLLAR BERTHS

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Choosing of "white collar jobs" by college men in preference to real work which they might do well be scored by Professor Joel Hildebrand of the chemistry department.

"Young people choose their lives on too objective a basis," says the professor. "Ability to do something which is useful is the only sound basis for success, not only as measured by money but by satisfaction and self-respect. It is far better to be a good mechanic than a poor lawyer."

"White collar jobs," declared the professor, "have a superficial attraction for college students whom he declared desired to be 'real gentlemen.' This weakness he classified as one of the greatest failings of college life."

Preliminaries for Third Party Starts

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The preliminary work of organizing a new "third party" began today. J. A. Hopkins, head of the Committee of Forty-eight, left for Washington for conferences with liberal leaders as the first campaign step.

SAN DIEGO, CALIF., Nov. 8.—Declaring that he had been shot and then thrown out of an automobile by a shipmate as the result of a quarrel over a woman, Edward B. McElfrisch, a first-class fireman on the U. S. S. Birmingham, was picked up on the street here last night and taken to the Navy hospital, where it was said that he may recover from his wound.

Four sailors in the automobile with McElfrisch at the time of the shooting disappeared, but later in the night another sailor of the Birmingham, named Edward Vandervecht, who admitted having been in the car with McElfrisch, was ordered placed in the ship's brig because his story of the affair did not satisfy the authorities.

Livermore Gridders Guests at Dinner

LIVERMORE, Nov. 8.—Members of the Livermore high school football team, Coach Clarence Britten and Principal Herbert Lee, were entertained by Captain Ray Henry at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Edna M. Henry, Saturday evening.

The main feature of the evening's entertainment was a wholesome dinner prepared for the occasion. After the dinner the evening was pleasantly spent between cards and checkers, the latter diversion being sought by those on the team who wished to work out new plays of stratagem that will help the team in outwitting Concord when the two teams meet here on Armistice day.

ARMY MAN SAYS HE WAS "ALL IN"

"I certainly can say a good word for Tania and am glad to do so, for I gained twenty-six pounds by taking it and feel better than in years."

"Last winter I caught a severe cold which confined me to bed for a week, and after getting out I felt absolutely 'all in.' I had no appetite and what little I ate seemed to do me more harm than good."

"I needed a medicine to build me up and took Tania on account of its being highly recommended. I certainly did all that was claimed for it. My appetite came back and soon my stomach was as sound as a dollar. I have gone up from one hundred and nine pounds to one hundred and thirty-five pounds in weight, and feel fine all the time."

"The above statement was made by Sergeant W. H. Hise, 11th Cavalry, U. S. A., Arcadia, Calif., a non-commissioned officer in charge of transportation."

Tania is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

A Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—Advertisement.

RELICS OF DAYS OF GOLD TO BE SHOWN PUBLIC

JACKSON, Nov. 8.—Many relics of the early gold days have just been loaned by the heirs of the late Charles Peters, a pioneer of the pioneers. Among them is a gold pan presented to Peters by Charles Marshall, discoverer of gold in California. A Dutch oven used by Peters in preparing holiday feasts for the early day red-shirted miners, the pick he used in his first mining ventures and a book dated 1832, in which he had carefully written a number of receipts which he considered of western interest to his family.

Interests are also attached to a steel triangle, which Peters hung outside his cabin door. It remained there for years until his death. He often told his neighbors that it would never be found unless it were very rich in gold. Then they went to the mine and found it. As it happened, however, he was never to sound the alarm for the best his way one dark night some winter, Peters' cabin caught fire and was destroyed.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescriptions, however, make it so easy and safe. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the order direct to the Marmola Co., 4012 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Goat Gland Serum for Women in San Quentin

On March 13, 1921, The Oakland TRIBUNE revealed to the world for the first time the fact that at San Quentin prison experiments in goat gland operations surpassing anything ever attempted were being successfully carried on by the prison physician.

Today, more than eight months later, Dr. L. L. Stanley announces that the revivifying injections of foreign tissue into the human body have been extended to female prisoners and that these women have shown marked mental and physical improvement.

By GEORGE C. HENDERSON.

In the cement walled cloister from which women convicts of San Quentin prison stare out of their steel-barred eyes only Marin county hills and the San Francisco Bay, an operation in health rejuvenation is being performed that brings blushes to pale cheeks, adds sparkle to sad, weary eyes and turns a tomb of death into a shrine of life.

Such is the revelation just made by Dr. L. L. Stanley, resident physician at San Quentin, who has disclosed the fact that while 550 male felons have had renewed vigor shot into their blood with goat gland serum, experiments on girls and women in the "female department" have proceeded quietly.

WOMEN ENTHUSIASTIC. Lipstick, rouge, hair tonics, powder, manicure and all the other devices of beauty parlors must take a back seat when compared with the results obtained through the hypodermic injection of glands from sheep into the anemic blood of ailing women. With their convincing manner, husband-murderers, dainty creatures of bigamistic tendencies, shoplifters whose slender, tapered fingers have aided their illicit forgers with the glasses of girl and women prisoners are enthusiastic over the results produced on three of their number by Dr. Stanley's scientific Fountain of Youth.

MANY REQUESTS. Only after Dr. Stanley, assisted by Dr. C. A. De Lancey, had performed goat gland operations on hundreds of male convicts over a period of three years, did he venture to try the experiment on the women. Today fifty men a month receive an injection of the live goat glands. Dr. Stanley is flooded with requests for the operation.

From thirty to fifty men are on the waiting list all the time. The first time he ever performed the operation, Dr. Stanley had to coax a convict to consent to the experiment. Today his office is inundated with appeals from men and boys who have seen the sick grow well, the thin grow fat and the old become young again.

Despite the fact that scores of convicts testify to the revivifying effect of the operation, Dr. Stanley conservatively declares that the matter is still in an experimental stage.

EXPERIMENT ON RATS. While rats, running around and around in a cage, in the basement of the old sash and blind building at San Quentin, are testing its efficacy on animals. For six months these rats have been traveling in the revolving cage. Every time the cage turns, it is registered on an automatic counter. In the daytime the rats travel three or four miles, but at night they go as far as six or seven. Each rat has traveled over 800 miles.

At first the rats traveled without stimulant. Their record was noted. Then they were given injections of the goat glands and their endurance and speed is now being measured by means of the revolving cage and thirty. Nervous, neurasthenic wrecks whose whole system has been warped are stimulated and given a new outlook. Men suffering from dementia or melancholia have declared that the stimulating effect of the added tissue made the sun shine brighter.

Judging from a conversation with some fifteen men, old and young, who had been operated upon by Dr. Stanley, one would say that the outstanding result obtained was an increased cheerfulness and a more wholesome attitude wrought upon the convicts. One and all they declared that life seemed better and the world brighter.

TONES UP SYSTEM.

"I think that the glandular operations have been generally misunderstood," declares Dr. Stanley. "People seem to think that the purpose of these is sex stimulation. Nothing could be further from the truth."

The best results have been obtained upon persons suffering from nervous diseases. After one, two or three injections of the serum this nervousness has gradually disappeared, generally, I believe, because the tone of the system has been improved, the circulation of the blood stimulated and the ability to assimilate food increased.

Simple minded and idiotic people are now being experimented upon by Dr. Stanley to see if the interstitial gland operation will not restore them to normal. One case in particular the doctor has been treating for months. Every week the subject enters the operating room and submits to the injection. Attendants declare that his mental condition is slowly improving. His vitality is increasing. The subject is not becoming normal as rapidly as it was hoped, but the medical staff at San Quentin is encouraged by even the slightest improvement.

Old men, who could hardly move around prior to the experiment, declare that they feel as spry as at

GIRL WITNESS IN ARBUCKLE CASE EXPLAINS TALK

District Attorney Convinced
No Illegal Proposals Were Made Young Woman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Another flurry in the Roscoe Arbuckle case had passed over today. Kate Brennan, witness for the state in its prosecution of Arbuckle for alleged manslaughter growing out of the death of Virginia Rappe, appeared before the grand jury here last night and satisfied both the grand jury and the district attorney that there had been nothing irregular in her conversation with defense attorneys.

The state charged in court yesterday that Miss Brennan had been "approached" by attorneys for Arbuckle after they learned she was to be a witness for the state.

Miss Brennan's testimony, according to the district attorney, will be that she heard a girl sobbing in Arbuckle's room the afternoon he was alleged to have injured Miss Rappe. When attorneys for both the state and Arbuckle met in Judge Harold Louderback's courtroom to hear the formal postponement of the case yesterday for one week, due to the two holidays, election day and Armistice Day, Gavin McNab in addressing the court declared that the prosecution did not have the right to keep a witness away from the defense attorneys.

"We have the right," he said, "to interview any witness. I personally will speak to any witness when and where I like. My assertion is made by the recent account in the newspapers of the alleged 'tampering' with Alice Blake. I would like to know whether Alice Blake belongs to the district attorney's office or to her mother. As a matter of fact, no witness belongs to either side, and may at any time be questioned with a view of the revelations of the truth."

Mrs. Brennan told the jury last night that she had been interviewed by Arbuckle's attorneys, but that they had made no attempt to influence her in any way. She declared that she had no intention of changing her original affidavit.

Little Children Brighten Homes

EVERY young couple starting out in life has visions of joyous hours spent before the fireside with healthy, happy children; but, alas, how often young women who long for children are denied that happiness because of some functional derangement which may be corrected by proper treatment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine for these conditions, as the following letters show:

McDonald, Ohio.—"I suffered from a displacement, a weakness, and a great deal of pain. The doctor said nothing would help me but an operation. He said I could never have any children because I was too weak."

"I had often heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me. Now I am in the best of health, do all of my own work, and have a lovely boy six months old. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you have my permission to use this letter."

Mrs. J. C. EAGLESON, 426 Garfield Ave., McDonald, Ohio.

Mesa, Colorado.—"Ever since I was a young girl I suffered from a great deal of pain every month. I tried different medicines, but only got relief for a short time. I had been married seven years, and wanted a child, but was not well enough. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had helped her, and I am happy to say it restored my health, my pains disappeared, and I have a fine little girl. I advise all women who suffer as I did to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

SEAMEN'S UNION OFFICIALS ARE ORDERED TRIED

Furuseth and Thompson Are Charged With Violating Laws, Rules.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union, and John Vance Thompson, editor of the Seamen's Journal, are to go on trial tomorrow morning on charges of violating the union's laws and rules. Thompson accuses Furuseth of endeavoring to destroy the Seamen's Journal and thereby injure the union, and also with publicly branding members as I. W. Ws. Furuseth charges Thompson with editing the journal in opposition to an order of the Supreme Court and with spreading alleged I. W. W. propaganda through the pages of the journal.

The decision to hold the trial was adopted at a meeting of the union last night. The trial will be conducted by a committee of five from the Seamen's Union of the Pacific.

The outcome of the trial, it is said, vitally will affect the future of the seamen's union.

Richmond's Aid Asked in Fight for Naval Base

If the Pacific navy base is established at Alameda, Richmond may expect a marked increase in the business it now is transacting with the navy department, but if Alameda loses the base Richmond can expect a corresponding loss in this business. This is one of the points raised in a statement issued yesterday by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in connection with an appeal to the citizens of Richmond to line up with the state-wide campaign being made to bring the base to Alameda. The chamber also expressed the belief that a large majority of Richmond citizens are in favor of having the base located on San Francisco bay. The chamber's statement declares:

"There is naturally a friendly feeling in Richmond for Vallejo, but the merchants and citizens generally know that Richmond will receive much benefit if the base is located at Alameda, and that it will receive none if it is placed somewhere else. Therefore it is looked upon as merely a matter of self preservation for both Richmond and Vallejo to fight for the Alameda site."

UNITY ESSENTIAL.
"President L. M. Johnson of the Richmond Business Men's Association and Secretary Harry W. Wernse of the Richmond Industrial Commission, who attended the joint naval base luncheon at the Commercial Club of San Francisco some days ago, were at once convinced of the true state of affairs by what they heard there. It was apparent from inside information from Washington that the United States Navy is behind a site on lower San Francisco Bay and will hear of no other and that if unified action is not taken San Francisco bay will lose all further naval activities."

"Returning from this meeting President Johnson of the Business Men's Association made a public announcement through the press that he had learned enough to convince him that it was to the best interests of Richmond and necessary for the preservation of Vallejo of what she has that all bay communities get behind the Alameda site."

"Oil and the refining interests make up one of the main forces for the growth of Richmond, and the saving of the naval base to San Francisco bay will tend to increase that industry here, while location elsewhere will lose to Richmond a development in the oil line that may run into millions."

RICHMOND'S NEW HARBOR.
"Richmond also is developing a new harbor, and the navy department has become one of the big users of the facilities as far as they have been developed. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of supplies are handled by naval transports through wharf No. 1 of this project, and the new $150,000 city warehouse will be largely used by the navy. If the base is established at Alameda, the Richmond harbor may look for a great increase in this navy business, but if San Francisco bay loses the base Richmond will also be a loser in this way."

"The desire in Richmond is to help Vallejo hold what she has and to get more if possible, but not to have San Francisco bay lose the main base. Powerful forces are at work against this bay."

The Board of Supervisors in San Francisco yesterday endorsed the Alameda naval base site in a resolution introduced by Supervisor J. Emmerich. A resolution support-

Leon P. Lowe Charges Infringement of His Rights
On Gas Apparatus.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Testimony was taken here today in a suit for $2,000,000 for alleged infringement of patent, brought by Leon P. Lowe, an inventor, against the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The case is said to be one of the most important in its kind ever presented in the West. It was heard before Attorney Max C. Stess acting as special master in chambers under the appointment of United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet.

The suit is in connection with two patents which, it is charged, have been used by the gas company in California, the company testifies thereby in the extent of $2,000,000. The company denies any infringement on the Lowe patents and asserts it is using a device invented by E. C. Jones, former chief engineer of the company, who has retired from service. Jones and his patent his device.

The Lowe invention is known as the "intermediate gas outlet." It is said practically to double the efficiency of the gas burner in its operation. Lowe is the son of William Lowe, famous scientist, after whom Mount Lowe is named. Father and son have invented what is known as the water gas process, since patented by the manufacture of gas from the Lowe crude oil process for making fuel and from petroleum. The suit bears upon patented improvements which, it is claimed, have been made on the first Lowe gas making patents.

RAIL RATES AND TRADE.

Rail rate reductions—some of them already announced and others certain to come in the near future—on several hundred commodities of trade—should almost immediately be reflected in an improvement in the industries of the Pacific Coast and in the ports of oceanic trade.

One of the main causes for the falling off of the volume of foreign trade, and particularly the export business, was the heavy increase in freight rates put into effect during the peak of war demands. When it no longer was absolutely necessary to use the railroads for freight transportation, regardless of the cost, the unnecessary shipments were not made. Now that there is a rapid progress back toward normal freight rates San Francisco Bay should receive all that it has lost in the shipping business.

Of special interest is the heavy cut in rail rates on iron and steel rails and other iron and steel articles intended for export via Pacific ports. High rates have for two years served to keep the trade in this class of products at a minimum in the trade ports. Most of the purchases made by buyers in Asia and the Antipodes have gone by water through the Panama canal.

As in the steel trade, so with other classes of commodities going to make up the foreign commerce. Lower rates render it possible to handle shipments destined for ports on the other side of the Pacific by transcontinental rail lines and these lead to the principal ports of the coast—to San Francisco Bay and to Puget Sound. In this port, the harbor of Oakland, which permits all the transcontinental railroads to touch deep-sea freighters at tidewater, a marked increase in shipping activities should follow.

Rail rates have not gone as low as they must go before there can be a solid and stable foundation for foreign trade shipments, but the situation is showing a vast improvement. Perhaps the railroads are cutting rates as fast as conditions permit. But rates that in themselves curtail traffic movements are ruinous and it may be assumed that as this fact is forced upon the understanding of the railroad operators they will take appropriate steps to correct present schedules.

Railroads apparently are through with their experiments to ascertain just how much the traffic will stand. They have found that the limit has been passed by a large margin and they must get back to the point where traffic will be stimulated by rates.

CAMPERS IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Notwithstanding that the vacation season of the present year crossed a period of marked economic depression, when a smaller proportion of the people than usual were expected to take a vacation which involved travel, there was no indication that the forest parks and mountain retreats suffered any loss in popularity. More people visited the mountains and forests than in any previous year.

According to Mr. Paul G. Reddington, district forester of the federal Forest Service for California, over one and one-half million people visited the national forests of this state during the summer just closed. Most of them traveled by automobile and the large majority carried their own camping equipment. This is reflected in the large influence of summer vacations on the business of the Pacific Coast.

The occupation of land by the enormous numbers of campers traveling into the mountains, a number increasing by thousands each year, creates many problems for the forest service. points out Mr. Reddington. First there is the fire prevention campaign to be carried on among those who do not realize from previous experience the extreme care which must be used in handling fire in the woods. Improvements are urgently needed for the disposal of camp refuse and in the interest of sanitation—fireplaces for campfires and tables for use at meal time. This all takes time and men and real money are needed to make the improvements.

Up to the present no public funds have been provided for these purposes. Yet when so large a number of the people make use of the forest lands in the mountains, when they go into the mountain parks and live for several weeks in the open, a real demand for governmental attention is created.

WHEN A MAN IS "THE MAN."

Great men upon a great occasion, men to fit the drastic requirements on an epochal moment, are not numerous. When one is found he usually becomes world famous and the chances are that several generations will read of him and honor his name. Such a man was Marshal Foch, whom circumstances presented when the Allies were searching about for a man to take the unified command of their military forces in France, at a time when the war's outcome appeared to be uncertain.

In all that has been written about Foch, nothing seems quite to touch the picturesque fitness of the man for the requirements as the recital by Mr. Stephane Lauzanne in his book, "Great Men and Great Days." It was in that critical March of 1918, when the Germans were hammering hard. The French government was again considering withdrawal. Even the evacuation of Paris was pending.

Clemenceau, Poincaré and Luchaire traveled to Doullens to meet and reach a decision with the English chiefs, Field Marshal Haig and Lord Milner. An English conference was in progress and while they waited the Frenchmen walked back and forth in front of the Hotel de Ville in a stinging wind. Foch was there and his first opportunity came to express to the French President his disapproval of the plan of withdrawal. His words became historic and Lauzanne quotes them:

"Paris! Paris has nothing to do with this matter. Paris is far off. We ought to stop the Boche right here. We have only got to say, 'He shall not pass' and he will not pass. We can always stop the Boche. We have only got to give the order. It is only necessary to say, 'Retreat no further.' I will guarantee you that three-fourths of the battle is won when we know we are not going to retreat. France is France, and France does not die. Haig and Pétain are two men who are keeping a door closed, each one by pushing on a separate bolt. The door has been broken down. There they are, both of them, each one at his own bolt, watching the enemy pour in and not knowing how to close the door and who ought to make the first move. 'You know my method, I would drive a nail in the door, here; then one at that point; then at this one. The Boche would be almost stopped. Then I'd drive another one in here. And the Boche would be stopped. We can always stop the Boche.'"

As Foch talked Clemenceau came up; and Clemenceau "did not like General Foch very much," Lauzanne tells us. Yet, carried away, the Tiger leaped over to M. Luchaire and in a low voice said what he thought: "That's a man." Immediately the conference with the English generals came about. Foch had again the opportunity to repeat his plan. A brief, whispered dialogue followed between Lord Milner and M. Clemenceau. "There is our man," Lord Milner is reported by Lauzanne as having been overheard to say several times. Foch had saved the day—and the unified command with all its then immeasurable results was a certainty.

The progression was from Clemenceau's "That's a man," to Milner's "There's our man." The doubters were won. Clemenceau told Foch "You have got what you want." Foch had his way. "A man"; then "our man"; and final agreement, "the man."

We shall not undertake to say these were the exact words, the precise circumstances, of the meeting at Doullens. But they may have well been, so accurately do they reflect the character of the famous French general. That he was "the man" to whom all turned in those precarious moments, and that he proved the faith placed in him, accounts for his great popularity in the United States, for a reception the like of which has never before been witnessed.

Foch has won the heart of America by his gentle, unassuming simplicity during his present visit, just as he won it by his splendid generalship of the Allied armies during the war. He will always enjoy a high place in the regards of the people of this country, whatever may be the fate of fickle politics in France.

Down in Los Angeles a Chinese boy of fifteen was arrested with a number of native-born American boys who stole an automobile for a joy ride. It is claimed that he was merely along with the crowd and contributed no portion of the thought or action constituting the theft. Now his parents desire to send him back to China, so he may be free from the perils of American association. Commenting upon this interesting episode the Los Angeles Times observes that the Chinese like to play fantan and the lotus, but they seldom steal and they teach their offspring to respect the law and to be courteous and considerate to their seniors. There is a deal of truth in this. The Chinese may be accused of many things, but their general guiltlessness as to petty thefts and falsehood might well be adopted by other peoples.

Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles, visiting in the bay district, has ventured to utter praise for San Francisco harbor facilities. Mayor Cryer's sincerity cannot be doubted, but it is just possible that he will explain to his fellow Angelenos that he had his fingers crossed all the time.

NOTES and COMMENT

The way in which, on the day preceding an election, everybody is reminded, advised, cajoled, besought and variously urged to vote ought to develop the voting habit more prominently than the returns generally show. The proportion of electorate who refuse to be interested except from personal predilection for particular candidates is very large, while those who will vote for a candidate because of a prospect that he will achieve better government, in preference to one with a more likeable personality, though with no promise of an adequate public service, is infinitesimal.

The explanation by Chief Justice Angelotti is ample. The courtroom was crowded. He wanted to go out more. He never saw more than three tall games a year. Any job that keeps a man confined as close as that may well be thrown up.

President Obregon is represented in one of the despatches as saying that recognition by the United States is "a joke." It is not quite as satisfactory having him feel that way as it would be to have him acquiesce. Once the "don't care" attitude is established, it is not likely to go so well against the border.

The Little and Big ententes are differing notes to Hungary to the effect that Hapsburgs must be barred from its throne; which, seeing that the constituted government of Hungary is feeling that way itself, seems to be supererogatory. However, it is all pretty good evidence that nobody is counting very heavily on the restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty, any more than they seem to be counting on setting a Hohenzollern back on a throne and giving him a scepter.

The San Francisco election being over this week, and the Eastbay election next week, there will be nothing to engage the public attention except the world convention on disarmament and the U. C.-Stanford football game. And to a considerable contingent, the latter is not considered the least exciting event.

There is speculation as to why a daughter of former President Wilson is buying a house in New York. Remembering what has been said in historical articles about the absence of great wealth in the family it may be speculated whence the inspiration and whereabouts of such considerable branching out as the acquisition of a Stayeston Fish domicile indicates?

It is interesting to read in connection with news of the municipal election in New York that the socialists, prohibitionists, single taxers, farm-laborites and communists all have tickets in the field, as well as Tammany and the Republican-coalition forces. There is a sure-enough ballot mazo for the unsophisticated voter to go through.

A recent mail robbery near Kansas City illustrates the industry of a lone bandit held up a mail car in which there were seven clerks, forced one to find six, himself bound the seventh, and then leisurely rifled sacks of registered mail, getting away triumphantly. Those with the bandit predilection, seeing how easy it is, are likely to go and do likewise.

The San Mateo peninsula seems to be a favorite haunt for moonshiners. The country is rugged and isolated, and the city which may be reached by about the readily scrutinized trip across the bay. Besides, like the mountain people in the South, some of the residents and others have got in a way of it.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

John S. Ornbaum, one of the pioneers of Mendocino county and owner of Ornbaum Springs, is ill at the Mary Jesse hospital, Santa Rosa, and it is not believed that he will recover. The family of the pioneer consists of 14 children—10 sons and four daughters. At a recent family gathering covers were laid for 18 people, all descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Ornbaum, with the 14 sons and daughters, the grandchildren and great-grandchildren, the family is probably the largest in this section of the State, and possibly in the entire State.—Ukiah Press.

One of the addresses before a casket-makers' convention is to be entitled "The Law of Supply and Demand." The public will be interested to know what method of equalization is suggested in case of an over-supply of caskets.—Stockton Independent.

California is the home of the humble prune, but to any of the local grocer stores and price a pound of 'em and you will reach the conclusion that prunes must be the product of Central Africa.—San Diego Union.

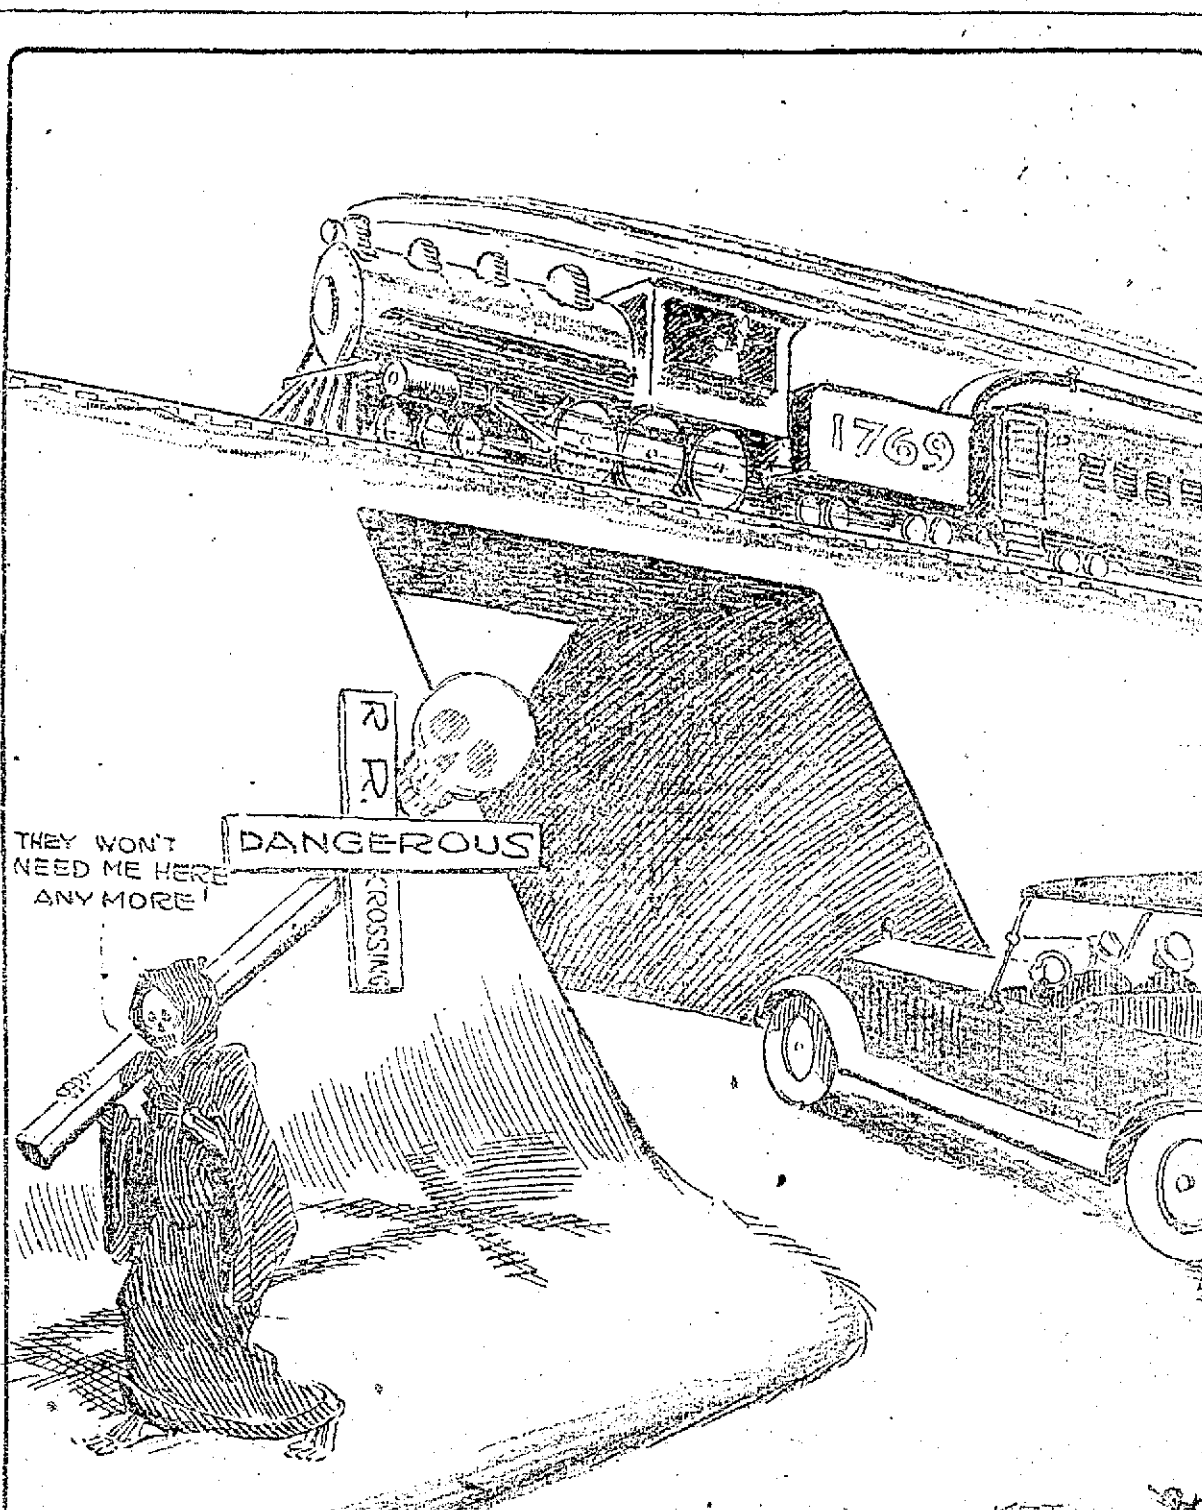

"R. Y. O. L." IN CAPITAL.

Exalted personages in Washington are frankly disappointed over the fact that "R. Y. O. L." doesn't figure in the agenda, but which is an Armament Conference problem of no mean proportions. It is how and whether the United States can appropriately entertain distinguished foreign statesmen without serving them the liquid refreshment they are used to at home.

Private hosts and hostesses in Washington, if they are the possessors of cellars that are still stocked or capable of replenishment, will have no complaint over the conference delegates comfortable at dinner. But when it comes to official representatives of the United States the matter assumes a different aspect. Inhospital as it may seem, the law of the land is likely to be vindicated and respected. State feasts will be dry.

All of which is responsible for the capital's newest quip. It is to the effect that when President Harding asked the eight cabinet members to come to Washington the invitations were marked not "R. S. V. P." but "B. Y. O. L."—bring your own liquor.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MUSEUM OF STRANGE RACES

"His hair is the most precious heritage that can be left to his son by a man of the Saks, one of the tribes of the Kenya Colony, British East Africa, where, despatches state, the natives of the colony are claiming equal representation with the whites," says a bulletin issued from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society. "It is uncommonly for the Saks women to have any hair at all on their heads, but the increasing supply of hair passed down from father to son is woven into a great chignon, in which he can carry all of his valuable possessions, such as his ornaments and his snuff-box. This head-covering is the only garment which he deems necessary. "The Saks belong to the Nilotic race group, which is only one of the divisions of the interesting inhabitants of this newest colony of Great Britain. We find the Swahilis, or coast folk, a hybrid race formed by the union of Arabs who have pushed into the country with the negro tribes, the Somalis and the Gallas. There also are the Bantu-speaking population, many of whom dwell in the regions around Mount Kenya, which was for a time believed to lie in the fabled regions of the 'Mountains of the Moon,' as well as more of the Nilotic group, consisting of the Masai, the Nandi and others. "Though Kenya calls itself the newest of the British colonies, it is one of the oldest lands of the earth. Theodore Roosevelt, in speaking of his African hunting trip, said that the Masai often reminded him of the pictures of the soldiers of Thothmes and Ramesses made by the ancient Egyptian sculptors. In their faces they were resolute and had clear-cut features. The same noted traveler said of this tribe that though the women were scrupulously clothed, the husbands and brothers, very ostentatiously wear no clothing for purposes of decency. "Reports concerning this particular people have constantly made their appearance in the civilized world because they persistently alleged neighborly tribes, having decided that they no longer cared to till their own fields, but would get their sustenance by taking the cattle and supplies of weaker tribes, and in this way have been responsible for the depopulation of large districts of British East Africa. Today, however, they are doing excellent work in cultivating the soil. "The greater portion of the Masai now live in the districts around Nairobi. They have perhaps the most definite religious beliefs of any of the East African tribes, praying to two gods, one black and benevolent and the other red and cruel, but they believe that when they die, they go out like a puff. Some of the Bantu tribes, however, hold to witchcraft and the witch-doctor's business is to detect the culprit so that she—for the accused is nearly always an old woman—may be put to death. "The Gallas, though they are now of little importance either politically or economically, take great pride in their past. They say that they once had a sacred book, like the Bible or the Koran, but a cow ate it, and not being certain about the particular animal, in their search they are still opening the stomach of every cow that dies. "The most effective weapon of the Masai and Andorobo is the arrow, which they poison with the Accacia thera schimperi, a small tree. They boil the leaves and branches until the mixture becomes thick and pitch-like in appearance, and place it on sheets of bark which they hide high on the branches of trees away from the children, until it is needed. When an animal is shot, it dies almost immediately. The natives cut out the flesh around the wound as soon as possible and throw it away. The remainder is eaten and the blood is drunk. This love of blood as an article of food is common among many African tribes, several of them going so far as to bleed their cattle and drink the blood or mix it with their porridge. "The mixed breed known as Swahilis, who live along the coast of the mainland and among the thousands and one representatives of other peoples of the world to be found in Zanzibar, have one claim to prominence among the Kenya tribes—their language is the one in common use in the colony. If one speaks Swahili he can find some one to converse with him from Rafiki to Aden and from Mombasa to the Congo. "TAKING AN INVENTORY. Now that the strike has been called off, it is worth while to take an inventory. The railroad executives who were intriguing for a strike in the expectation of destroying the unions have been decisively beaten. The unions, on the other hand, have been forced to admit that, like the railroad corporations, they are "affected with a public interest" and cannot afford to strike in the face of an overwhelming popular sentiment against a strike. Hardly less important is the belated discovery of the Labor Board that it is not the weak and spineless creature that it supposed itself to be. Indeed, this is probably the most important development growing out of this strike order.—New York World.

About YOUR HEALTH

What Meat May Mean In Hardening of the Arteries.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Every food is open to some sort of objection. For instance, the flesh foods are unstable and liable to putrefy. Likewise, they have a tendency to produce acids. In the processes of digestion and assimilation there take place in the body complicated chemical reactions. As a result, the urine contains certain chemical bases, as well as uric acid. These products of the chemistry of the human system are called "purins" or "purin bodies."

Their production depends largely on the eating of flesh. This is true of all forms of flesh-meats, fish, fowl and shellfish. "I am not opposed to the eating of meat in moderation, and have never fully sympathized with those who without moderation rail against its use. A perfectly healthy man may meet in moderation, and have never used meat in his life."

But there are some physical conditions where the eating of meat is positively harmful. The most dangerous period of a man's life is between 45 years and 55. I have not recently looked up the figures for America, but in England one-third of the total deaths among men between the ages of 50 and 65, are due to diseases affecting the heart and blood vessels.

The most common of all such diseases is hardening of the arteries, or "arterio-sclerosis." It is unfortunate that this condition is considered by too many as inevitable and incurable. It is not a disease in the true sense, like cancer or tuberculosis. It is a symptom merely, one of the results of bad habits or wrong living. If you know how to live, you will never have it, and even if you have its early symptoms, you may overcome the condition by correcting your habits.

Some persons with severe cases of arterio-sclerosis have brain symptoms. Dizziness, nausea, headache in the back of the head, roaring in the ears and loss of sleep are some of the worst.

The first thing to do to treat hardening of the arteries is to reduce the quantity of purin-producing foods that you eat. In a severe case the diet should consist of purin-free foods. That is, you should not eat meat.

Good judgment should be used in the preparation of flesh-food when there is tendency to arterio-sclerosis. Rich gravy and thick meat soup are dangerous. Fried meats should be avoided. Stewed or boiled meat is far safer. In any event, the consumption of all kinds of flesh is to be limited, and should not be taken at more than one meal per day. Of course, temperance in the consumption of meat is only one of many things to consider in dieting with hardening of the arteries. But a splendid beginning has been made when the purin-forming foods have been reduced to the minimum.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The postoffice in West Oakland has been moved from the corner of Seventh and Wood streets to the northeast corner of Seventh and Pine streets.

The control of the Market Street Railway Company is reported to have passed into the hands of Baltimore capitalists.

It is stated in a Paris despatch that the Sultan of Turkey has agreed to grant all requests made by France. President Wheeler of the University of California has returned from the East. He announces that President Roosevelt intends to visit the university next summer.

THEY THOUGHT IT WASN'T TRUE. The penetrating and industrious newspaper world has been making new information us, after an examination of all the facts, that it is Emperor Charles had not paused in his march on Budapest to partake of a champagne feast his entry into the Hungarian capital could not have been prevented. And, of course, if we are to yield to the fascinations of this "big" style of interpretation we must believe that if Charles had reached the capital he would have mounted the throne and reigned long and happily over his loving subjects.

The discoveries of the champagne incident take no account of the rather conspicuous facts that three nations were massing armies to expel Charles, that the council of ambassadors representing the allied powers was moving to undo the work of the royalists if it should succeed and that the Hungarian government itself disclosed no purpose of allowing it to succeed. History must have its-its, and a champagne "dinner" will do as well for Charles as anything else.

Everybody knows, of course, that Napoleon ruined the night before Waterloo the battle would have been over before Blucher arrived. Or if not that, everybody knows Napoleon would have won if Blucher had obeyed orders and pushed on to the emperor's aid. Or if not that, Napoleon would have won if Ney's column had not encountered the sunken road at Ohain.

There again these interesting speculations run counter to some rather important considerations. One is that a victory for Napoleon at Waterloo which was not improbable after the action at Ligny, would not have accelerated the hundred days by any appreciable length. If he had won the battle he would have had to wait the campaign, for that was decided when the powers agreed at Vienna to put a million men in the field against him.

The forces of Wellington and Blucher that formed a lucky juncture at Waterloo were but the advance guard of the great armies massing for the attack. It is easy enough to figure out a victory for Napoleon at Waterloo and many writers, beginning with Hugo, have amused themselves doing it. What no writer has succeeded in doing, however, is to show how a victory for him on that field would have changed the course of history.—Kansas City Times.

THE OLD HOME TOWN.

For a number of years fall home-comings have been popular in many counties and smaller cities over the country. They are for the most part family reunions, given a wider interest because they attract to the home town or county many friends of yore who might otherwise never meet again. Social occasions are arranged, there are public addresses, special church services, historical reminiscences and various forms of entertainment for the guests. From other localities who left their old home, farms and towns, to meet, let us hope, a larger and more enduring success abroad than they could have done at the old home.

The old town, looks small, no doubt, to those who went to the city for their life work; the old farm cramped, to those who now inhabit the wide reaches of the West. But to all the home-comers there are dear places, hallowed by tender memories, to visit—the brook, the ancient sycamore, the beloved hills in the country places; and in the small towns the old home with its multitude of reminiscences.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Seemed to Need Them.

An absent-minded professor invited a number of learned gentlemen to visit some interesting ruins in his neighborhood and to do honor to his guests he donned Highland dress for the occasion.

There was to be a luncheon in a large marquee on the lawn, and when the master of the house appeared in all the glory of the kilt, the astonishment of Jane, the housemaid, was great.

Thinking her master was in one of his vacant moods, she rushed up stairs, and in a few minutes appeared on the lawn with a pair of the professor's best trousers. She blushed as she said, pointing to the bare knees of the astonished Scott: "Please, sir, you've forgotten these."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Little Theater" Is Planned for U. of C.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—A "little theater" for the University of California, to be used by the students for productions, is the plan of the dramatic organizations of the college. Acting upon the suggestion of President David P. Barrows that a theater hall be built for use as a theater in the event sufficient interest is shown in the project, members of the three leading societies have signified their desire for the work to progress.

The English club, the Mask and Dagger society and the University Players' club are the organizations which have declared that if a theater is provided for the students, a series of short plays will be presented throughout the college year. Molded into figures like gingerbread men clay is sold in Peru.

I. W. W. DRAW 14 YEARS IN SAN QUENTIN

Six Oakland Men, Convicted Under Syndicalist Laws, Sentenced; Sextet Sings While Marching to Cells

Howard G. Welton, 18 months overseas, college graduate and orator of ability, today was sentenced to from one to 14 years in San Quentin prison for violation of the California criminal syndicalist law. Michael J. Dunn, Patrick Casey, John McLaughlin, John Hannan and George Ryan, convicted with Welton, were each given the same sentence.

Asked by Deputy District Attorney Wade Snook the usual questions regarding education, birthplace, parentage, etc., all refused to answer except Welton, the first man questioned, who answered all but the name of his father.

"There is no need of dragging him into this," he declared. His mother is dead.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

William B. Cleary, who appeared as attorney for the six men after their conviction, announced his intention to fight the conviction and immediately filed notice of appeal. Cleary is the son of William F. Cleary of Bisbee, Ariz., who prosecuted Cochise county officials for participating in the deportation of nearly 1800 alleged I. W. JUDGE WARNS WITNESS WHO URGED FLIGHT

Complainant in Nightingale Case, Charged With Having Offered to Depart, Is Told Imprisonment Will Follow

After testimony had been given to the effect that Samuel H. Barbour, complainant witness against Parolman Charles Nightingale, charged with the murder of Joseph Suppo, was suffering from a disease that confinement in the county jail would aggravate, Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church today released Barbour from payment of a $500 bond for his appearance in court December 19, the date set for the trial.

THREATENED BY COURT

Following testimony from Drs. J. J. Meyer and E. F. Jones, Judge Church said: "Barbour, I am not going to confine you in the county jail, nor am I going to place you under $500 bond, but should I hear of any such action taken by you, either to defend or prosecute attorneys in the future I will place you in the county jail for contempt of court. You say you are ill and that you have no money with which to put up a bond."

MUST REPORT DAILY

"You will report to the district attorney's office daily and keep in touch with them concerning the progress of the case. In the event that you do not, you will be charged with contempt of court and incarcerated in the county jail, pending the opening of the trial."

SECOND PROPOSAL

After hearing of the attempt of Barbour to leave the city, Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay had the man ordered into court to show cause why he should not be compelled to give a bond of $500 for his appearance at the trial.

Police Inspector Alexander Trotter and George Burbank testified yesterday that after going to Barbour's residence on Eighth street in response to a call that some men were breaking the windows in his home, Barbour suggested to them that he could "frame" a case against an I. W. W. who lived in his house. He also told the inspectors that in the event of a continuance in the Nightingale case he would leave town.

Device Records Sound of Breath Or Heart Beats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Perfection of a device which will record the sound of a human breath or a heart beat on a steel wire from which they can be accurately reproduced at any time, is announced by the bureau of standards. The work was undertaken at the request of the army medical service, which explained permanent records of unusual conditions of heart and lungs were desired for clinical instruction.

The device comprises use of an ordinary telephone transmitter and a stethoscope. It is explained, the current generated by the beat of the heart being amplified and connected with a steel wire telegraph, which has the different sounds impressed upon its spool of wire in the form of varying degrees of magnetization.

Junior Prom Bids Sale Held Again

BERKELEY, Nov. 5.—Many of those bearing coats and blankets in order to spend the night waiting for the opening of the bid sale for the Junior prom, university students began to form in line at 10 o'clock last night. The bids were announced to be on sale at this morning, but those who desired to attend the dance did not wish to miss the chance of securing admission.

Last week the distribution of tickets for the same dance started in a close spot, which resulted in the officers of the Junior prom committee, upon the entire affair until the Junior prom, agreed to have a new distribution.

The bidding was held in the Junior prom committee, which will be held on Saturday evening. All members of the Junior prom committee were asked to attend the bidding, and by the decision of the committee to hold a dance in Hearst hall as well as in the gymnasium, enough bids were issued to accommodate all who wished to attend.

MOVE AIMED AT WEALTHY. Thirteen Republicans joined the Democratic minority in supporting the amendment, which was expected to decrease the tax on wealthy individuals from escaping payment of surtax through division of their property among their relatives.

Republicans voting for it were: Capper, Cummings, Johnson, Jones of Washington, Kenyon, Ladd, La Follette, Lenroot, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Townsend and Willis.

By 37 to 22, the Senate rejected an amendment by Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, proposing to allow partnership and individuals to elect whether they should pay taxes on the net income from their business as the corporation or individual income.

On a tie vote, 32 to 32, the Senate rejected an amendment by Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, proposing a tax equivalent to 15 per cent of the value of tax exempt securities transferred by a decedent to his estate, provided such securities were issued six months after passage of the act.

Previously by a vote of 33 to 25, the Senate had rejected an amendment by Senator McNary, Republican, Indiana, which would have imposed the same tax and also a 10 per cent tax on the transfer of tax exempt securities issued before the passage of the act.

HEAVY VOTING ON COUNTY DRY LAW MARKS ELECTION

Santa Clara County Is Voting Today on Little Volstead Measure.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 8.—Voters of San Jose and Santa Clara county, 20,000 strong are today expressing their opinion at the polls on the subject of prohibition enforcement.

The election has been one of the bitterest in the history of the county, similar to the old battles between the wets and the dries before the days of the Volstead act.

Both sides are confidently claiming victory. A heavy vote was being cast throughout the city and county.

Both sides looked with pleasure upon this fact. In San Jose the balloting was particularly heavy, despite the fact that the law will not be enforced in the city.

The act is for the county outside of incorporated cities. The wet leaders were the more jubilant over the heavy vote.

They contend that their stronghold lies in San Jose and that a heavy enough majority will be rolled up for the wets here to offset a dry majority in the outside districts.

The drys have conducted the most vigorous campaign and it has been systematic. Their leaders have canvassed every house in the city and are busy getting out the vote today.

They have been successful in both of both factions were rushing here and there throughout the city and county all day today, adding to the general interest and excitement of the election.

When arrested Oswald was traveling toward San Jose. He told the officer he was connected with the forest service and was hurrying in response to a firm alarm to the Big Basin. Solon let the man proceed but told him to appear in court yesterday.

Blow At Sales Tax. Another effort to continue the excess profits tax after this calendar year failed, the Senate rejecting, 38 to 30, an amendment by Senator Reed proposing a tax of 20 per cent on net profits of corporations in excess of 50 per cent of the invested capital.

In rapid succession the Senate rejected three amendments proposing changes in the corporations' income tax rate of 15 per cent previously agreed upon. The first amendment, by Senator Edger, Republican, New Jersey, proposed retention of the present 10 per cent rate; the second by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, for a graduated tax of 10 to 20 per cent; and the third by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, proposed a 10 per cent rate in the case of corporations having net profits of 8 per cent or less.

Don't Throw Your Broken Furniture on the Junk Pile

In spite of the utmost care, furniture does get broken now and then. Sometimes it may only be a slight accident, but if this is not taken care of promptly the article may be ruined by later mishap. When your furniture is repaired properly it will show little or no sign of a break and will wear almost as well as if nothing had happened to it. Such expert repairing requires a high degree of skill, which you will find in the furniture repairers who advertise in the Classified Columns today and tomorrow (Wednesday) under REPAIRING.

$4190 FOUND IN OAKLAND ROBBER SUSPECT'S HOARD

John Haanstra Accused Before Judge of Conspiracy in Holdup.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Search of the home of John Haanstra, of Oakland, and a ransacking of his safe deposit box in an Oakland bank by government officers, is said to have resulted in the discovery of $4190, according to Assistant United States Attorney Grove J. Fink. The latter told Federal Judge Dooling today that he believed there was no question about Haanstra's alleged conspiracy in the robbery of a Southern Pacific mail train near Sacramento, when $160,000 worth of securities were stolen.

It is claimed that Haanstra endeavored to dispose of $7500 worth of bonds of the Standard Oil Company shortly before his arrest at Toledo, Ohio, in 1920. He was charged with a conspiracy to obtain a reduction of bail from $15,000 to $500. On the showing of the government this was refused, as also to a writ of habeas corpus. He was instead of at Sacramento. Judge Dooling declared a much speedier hearing could be obtained at the capital.

GAS STATION NOT HIGHWAY; MAN IS FREED

Because a gasoline filling station is not a public highway, Lawrence Turkoff was released from the county jail today in a writ of habeas corpus by order of Superior Judge George Samuels. Turkoff was charged with driving an auto while intoxicated.

On the afternoon of October 16 Turkoff drove a truck into the gasoline filling station at University and San Pablo avenues, crashing into another car that was taking gas. The truck and the machine was badly damaged but Turkoff, it is alleged, was under the influence of liquor, so the Berkeley police were called and he was placed under arrest.

When Turkoff was called for arraignment it was found that he had been arrested and charged under the name Laura Turkoff and court attaches were surprised to discover he was not a woman as the name would indicate. The case was continued a week to permit the district attorney's office to file information against him.

When his property was returned when the case was called this morning, Turkoff was discharged in the above manner because the law does not extend to places other than the public roads.

The industrial accident Commission and insurance companies are seeking to ascertain whether a fall killed him or whether he died from natural causes. Homesick Sailor Lad Befriended by Police

SAN JOSE, Nov. 8.—Honesty is its own reward. Police of this city proved it last night to Morris Melgron, sailor from the Mare Island Navy yard.

Melgron, a simple, plain spoken youth, far away from home, tired of things in general and the navy in particular, he isn't well.

Saturday afternoon he was given "shore leave" for several hours. It was his golden opportunity, Morris felt, to leave behind him the duties that have grown wearisome and set out in search of his little old home in far away Massachusetts.

So the sailor lad, in full uniform, started walking. He hit the State highway toward San Jose, perhaps figuring that the longest way 'round was the sweetest way home.

Melgron had but a half-dollar in his possession. This didn't go far and soon he was penniless and without food.

He trudged the highway and slept beneath a clear California skies in a hay field. Last night, worn and hungry, he arrived in San Jose. He arrived discouraged with himself and convinced that it was a wrong step he had taken.

Three square meals a day at the navy yard and a good bunk at night are better than long walks, no food and no place to sleep, he thought.

Earth, Morris figured. Then, too, he reasoned, he wasn't playing the same square.

He decided to hit it back for "the brig." He was confident that the brig would await him, but that was all part of the life.

So Morris Melgron walked into police headquarters last night and asked a place to sleep. He admitted his intentions had been bad, but very honestly informed the officers that he was "starting back in the morning."

They confessed that he was hungry—hadn't eaten for more than 24 hours.

Night Captain J. C. Rines, Detective John Guerin and others, touched by the plain-spoken youth's unmistakable honesty and frankness, and touched by his story of desire to risk anything to see the home he had never left until four months ago, dug down into their pockets and scraped together a tidy little sum of silver.

This they slipped into the reluctant Morris Melgron's hands and then piloted him to a restaurant. Where the sailor boy ate all but the plates.

Then the officers put Melgron to bed.

This morning they awoke him early to send him on his way rejoicing. They trusted Melgron. They believed his story that he was "going back" and they let him go his way.

Last seen of Morris was headed for San Francisco on the Great highway.

Union Church Service Opens Armistice Week

HAYWARD, Nov. 8.—Hundreds of people, members of four Protestant churches of Hayward and visitors crowded the auditorium of the high school here last evening, at the union service of the local churches which opened the week of Armistice Day for this district.

From start to finish the service was an inspiring and uplifting one. Beautiful anthems and hymns by the augmented choir of the Hayward church, and the large audience added to the solemnity and effectiveness of the occasion.

Rev. W. A. MacClean, of Trinity Episcopal church, gave the sermon of the evening. Rev. MacClean spoke of the principles behind the disarmament movement, telling of the need of Christian people who would voice these sentiments and lend their moral support to the commission gathered in Washington, where these weighty decisions were pending. He touched on the economic need of disarmament but most strongly stressed the motives and ideals that should not be lost sight of in a consideration of these great questions.

The union service was conducted under the auspices of the Hayward Episcopal, Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches. Assisting Rev. MacClean were Rev. Joseph Daniel, Rev. A. P. Ortti and Rev. John Winsor.

Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion were present in the audience. Machines Crash Auto Thieves in Head-on, Drivers San Jose Strip Escape Injury Stolen Machines

SAN JOSE, Nov. 8.—Two men narrowly escaped injury last night when automobiles in which they were driving crashed at the junction of Santa Clara and San Pedro streets, wrecking both cars badly.

Jack Thorpe, prominent local building contractor residing at 750 South Seventh street, was the driver of one of the cars, while Martin Gonzalez, 166, Municipal, was piloting the second machine.

Thorpe entered Santa Clara street from San Pedro, while Gonzalez was piloting his car west on Santa Clara. Both were traveling fast and failed to see each other in time to avoid collision, the result being that the machines crashed and "junked" in the middle of the street. Two other automobiles traveling in the same direction narrowly averted adding to the damage when they succeeded in swinging around the two wrecked cars.

Gonzalez and Thorpe were both thrown badly by the crash, but both escaped without injury. Both blamed the other for the accident and threatened suit as a result.

CASE IS CONTINUED.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 8.—On request of attorneys for Louis Mainini, Superior Judge A. B. Fraud Alleged In Tree Sale by Suit Plaintiff

SAN JOSE, Nov. 8.—Hearing of evidence in the suit of L. Abuzzi against Morgan Hill for $10,000 damages against the Leonard Coates Nursery company for an alleged fraud in the sale to the plaintiff of pine trees, was begun in the Superior Court this morning before Judge F. B. Brown.

Numerous attorneys were present for the respective principals in the suit, which promises to be bitterly fought.

The defendant corporation had categorically denied the allegations of the plaintiff.

Abuzzi contends that the purchased pine trees from the Leonard Coates company on the representation that they were French pruned of high quality and would bear fruit within three years. He claims that the trees did not mature, or bear fruit for eight years and that they then proved not to be French pruned but an inferior grade, on which he bases his suit for damages.

$146,836 PARK FUND FIGHT LOST BY SACRAMENTO

Court of Appeals Rules That Contract Entered Into Must Be Carried Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The City of Sacramento will be compelled to pay P. B. McKeevit and George Swanson $146,836 of the William Land Park fund on a contract to purchase certain lands under the fund, despite the fact that the voters of the city repudiated the contract in a referendum election, the district court of appeals upheld here today. The decision voided a judgment of the lower court.

The city commission entered into a contract with McKeevit & Swanson to purchase from the $250,000 land fund certain lands controlled by them.

The purchase price was to be paid in U. S. Victory bonds. The action of the commission was submitted to a referendum in which the contract was approved and McKeevit & Swanson thereupon sued for fulfillment of the contract. The city's demurrer was overruled and a trial of the action resulted in judgment for the plaintiffs. The city took an appeal which resulted in today's decision.

Following the election the city endeavored to have the fund apply to the improvement of Del Paso Park, already owned by the municipality. This action was included by the plaintiffs as one of the causes for the litigation.

CHILDREN WILL SUPPORT DUCKS IN 1922 FETE

Several hundred Oakland school children are to begin training immediately in duck raising to feature Oakland's wild duck pageant for 1922. It was announced today by the parent committee of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the project will be symbolical of the history of Lake Merritt as a refuge for wild fowl and the protection afforded them by the city.

These plans have been agreed on by the parent committee of the recreation department, which has undertaken general supervision of the affair.

The subcommittee, of which E. T. Hunsley is chairman, will send representatives of the recreation department have gone over the grounds in Lakeside park and it was announced today (Tuesday) that the ducks will be provided at the ducks' feeding dory.

It is planned to erect bleachers on the knolls overlooking the pageant stage, which will seat several thousands and give everyone a clear view of the performance.

As tentatively decided upon, the pageant, which has been written by Mrs. E. A. Hollington of the Recreation department, will depict the raising of a side of Lake Merritt as a duck refuge by Uncle Sam in the '60s. Mr. Mallard will then waddle on and give thanks to Oakland for protection from hunters and for the food provided during the winter.

The pageant of the ducks will appear and drive the hunters away and then the youngsters will spread the barley breakfast for the ducks. Following the feeding there will be other dances symposium of the season.

Italians Seek Right to Buy Wine for Navy

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The Italian battleship Libia, now riding at anchor in San Francisco harbor, may have to return to her home port before her officers and men may again sip wine with their meals.

Yesterday her commander, Captain Ernesto Bursaglia, applied to the local prohibition enforcement officers for permission to take on board 10,000 gallons of California wine. The local office of the prohibition enforcement director could not grant the request, and doubted very much if permission to transport wines for that purpose would be granted by the national office.

Yesterday a ruling was asked from Washington. To date none has been received.

A dispatch from Washington quotes one prohibition official as having said that there isn't a chance for the Libia to replenish her wine stores with California vintage.

WOMEN FLOCK TO VIEW 'BLUEBEARD'

By WILLIAM COOR, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 8.—Jaunty and alert Henri Desires Landru, "modern Bluebeard," who is on trial charged with the murder of ten women and a boy, faced direct examination by reading Judge Henri Landru. The prospect of a battle of wits between Landru and the court and the possibility of a salacious admissions brought to the court even larger crowd than attended on the opening day. Practically all were women. Fashionably dressed women came from Paris by motorcar.

Landru was unperturbed. He smiled at the prettiest woman in the spectators' gallery and made a little bow as he sat down beside his counsel.

"I never harmed a woman in my life," declared the prisoner. "I never even struck a woman."

"But where are these women who have disappeared?" he was asked.

"I am proud to secrecy," replied Landru. "Honor forbids me to speak."

Landru had taken special pains with his toilet to make the best possible impression on the large number of women spectators. Although he is charged with having killed ten women and exsanguinated 300 altogether, it was revealed that he had a record of marriage proposals since his arrest.

MOONEY RETRIAL APPEAL IS READY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Byron C. Parker, counsel for Thomas J. Mooney, who is serving a life sentence in San Quentin as a result of his conviction in connection with the Preparedness day parade bombing in 1916, announced today that he has completed a brief for presentation to the District Court of Appeals. The brief which carries Mooney's case to the higher court is 200 pages in length and covers the entire history of the case, and asks a new trial.

Preparation of the appeal to the high court followed a denial by the Superior Court of San Francisco for a writ of "audita querela" which would have opened the door for a new trial for the convicted bomber.

The decision was rendered last night.

Parker bases his demand for a new trial on the common law, since he claims no judicial relief is provided by the statutes of California. Parker also quotes Judge Louderback, who is sustaining objections against the defense's procedure, declared the objections were without merit.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CHILL SAUCE.

When Uncle Wiggily reached his hollow stump bungalow one day, having been out in the woods looking for an adventure, he smelled, coming from a partly opened window—a most delicious and spicy odor.

"My! I wonder what that can be?" exclaimed the bunny gentleman. "It is too late in the day for Nurse Jane to be busy with griddle cakes. And as for apple dumplings, we had those yesterday. I wonder what this is?"

As Uncle Wiggily drew nearer the spicy smell became stronger, and he sniffed with a sort of sweet odor, like roses in June.

Also there was to be heard the clatter of pans and the clink of glass, while Nurse Jane was singing some song like this:

"Cinnamon, nutmeg, mustard, cloves,
All my bread I bake with moss.
And then I'll call this chill sauce."

"Oh, ho! Then it's chill sauce you are cooking!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped over the door.

"Chill sauce is right!" cried Nurse Jane, as she came to the door.

"What about?" asked the bunny rabbit.

"Well," went on the muskrat lady, housekeeper, "the chill sauce is about done, and I want to pour it into jars to cool. But I also want to go over and call on Mrs. Littlebit, the rabbit lady. She wants me to show her how to make chill sauce like mine."

"She couldn't make it better kind," chuckled the bunny, "for I never smelled any chill sauce so good. So toodle along, Nurse Jane, and pour the chill sauce into jars for you."

"That will be very kind," said Miss Furry Wuzzie, as the bunny hopped to burn yourself, as the sauce is quite warm from having cooked on the stove."

Uncle Wiggily said he'd be careful, so when Nurse Jane had tied her hair in a pink ribbon bow and had hopped over to the rabbit lady's house, Uncle Wiggily began to pour the chill sauce from the kettle into the different jars, where it was to keep all winter.

Sugar and spice and everything nice had Nurse Jane, and when it was cool in the jars, which were ready to have tops screwed on, Uncle Wiggily took just a little taste of the sauce.

"Wow!" he exclaimed as he felt it on his tongue. "It is very hot, though they call it a better kind of chill sauce. And it isn't hot from the fire either. It is hot because it is vinegar, and the rabbit lady is a horse radish in a bun. But a little is all right."

Uncle Wiggily drank some cool water to make his tongue feel better, and then he sat down to wait for Nurse Jane to come back home. Soon there was a patter of feet on the steps, and the bunny jumped up crying:

"Come in and see the chill sauce!" "That's just what I'm going to do, my rabbit friend!" growled a savage voice. "Did you invite me in?" growled the bear.

"I thought you were Nurse Jane!" stammered the bunny.

"Well, no matter, you looked like to come in, and here I am!" roared the bad chap. "I'm not saying I wouldn't have come in anyhow, but here I am, and I must nibble your ears!"

"Oh, please don't!" begged the rabbit.

"Yes, I shall," "too!" howled the shaggy fellow. "And I also heard you say something about seeing the chill sauce, was on the bunny's head. 'Is that it?' and he pointed to the jars filled with red tomato juice and other things."

"That's chill sauce," said the bunny. "Just what I want!" the bear said. "I have on my winter coat of fur, and it's a bit warm today, so a little chill sauce will cool me off. I'll take a can."

He raised a jar to his mouth. "Hold on! Wait!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "This is CALLED chill sauce, to be sure, BUT—"

"Never mind butting!" impolitely interrupted the Bear. "This is well for goats. I know what this chill sauce is. I'll take some to cool my mouth!"

With that he drank a lot of the new chill sauce. But though it was no longer hot, the bear, it was not with mustard, cloves, cinnamon and red pepper.

"Oh, wow, Oh, trolley car! Oh, jitney!" he howled. "My mouth is on fire! Oh, water! Water!" and dropping the jar, out of the bungalow he ran, not hurting Uncle Wiggily at all.

"Well, it's a good thing chill sauce is spicy and hot!" laughed the bunny as Nurse Jane came back.

INSTALLMENT 10.

Kate went in alone and found a seat by herself, where she ordered a drink. This advertised her as a reckless person; her face and garb advertised her other attractions.

Because the "La Joy" was obscure and yet hilarious, Kate had chosen it for the "location" of the movie scenario she had improvised from well-worn sure-fire material. Because the "La Joy" was obscure and yet hilarious, Kate had chosen it for the "location" of the movie scenario she had improvised from well-worn sure-fire material.

"Honest Jack" Gabe was born and bred in the back country. In time he became the cashier of a bank in the small and well-ventilated town with the playful title of Cattleina.

Honest Jack, unfortunately, lost too much at cards, and fell into the habit of taking the money of the depositors. He was as honest as the day is long. Unfortunately, his night was long, and by and by he was in so deep that he went on through.

He took all the cash and negotiable securities the bank had, and then he took the cash and negotiable securities the bank had, and then he took the cash and negotiable securities the bank had.

His photograph and description, and the offer of a reward, followed him to New York. He spent a good deal of time and most of his money in poolrooms, but he had been frightened even from this most stupid known form of sport by a series of raids. He could not afford to get arrested for card playing a pistol for he would be shipped back to Cattleina, where the depositors would probably save the state the expense of boarding him at the penitentiary by cordoning him from the limb of a tree.

On this night he slipped into the La Joy, whose merry scene Kate had chosen in the movie. He sat again and again, and finally she indicated a willingness to receive him as a guest by moving over a little on the long imitation-leather seat.

Honest Jack strode over to Kate, carrying his honest Stetson. He and Kate were immediately as good friends as they were members of the same lodge.

Kate won his sympathy by confessing that she was a desperate woman. Her husband had deserted her back before—and run off to Canada, where he was now married. She just had to have a little human companionship, she said; and she didn't care what happened.

Honest Jack tried to console her in his rough-diamond way. Champagne was treble a tribute now, since its price had trebled and more, so Jack picked up a bottle of cognac wine, and like all westerners said, "Here's how!"

When he paid his check he took from the inside pocket of his honied-starch vest a fat bundle of folded bills, peeled off a yellow bow, and put the wad back carefully. It was all that remained of the depositors' money.

He looked at the money with a regret at having to leave so nice a gemman and go back to that awful lonely flat. And Jack said he couldn't see how it was absolutely necessary for him to go back to that awful lonely sort of loneliness his own self, and how about poolin' them two lonelinesses and makin' it a jackpot?

Kate coyly consented. She folded up the bill of fare with the bill, mimeographed in purple ink. She said she wanted it as a souvenir.

Jack called a taxicab, and Kate gave the driver an address across the city, where the man who had snuggled in his arms and wept he comforted her as only a stalwart westerner can comfort a little woman who has been maltreated by one of nature's ignobles.

After Kate had sobbed awhile she began to tell of the cruelty and treachery of her husband. He was wanted for killing a man. She had not known this, of course, till after she had married him in her innocence. If she ever looked at a man, her husband wanted to kill him.

He had taken a shot at one poor fellow who had merely seen her home once when she felt faint on a street car. Wouldn't you just know that kind of a man would run off with another woman? She told at his wife if a man was just polite to her, but if he saw anybody he liked, away he'd go. Leastways, she reckoned he'd go. She was told so by a certain lady of fortune, of course, she didn't know for sure.

Maybe the police had got him! They took him once, but he got away, and you should have seen him when he came back unexpected and caught her just talking to a gas-meter man, and—if the man hadn't had his book in his hand and been writing in it, he'd never have read another meter. Her husband always had a gun, somehow, and he didn't care who he shot.

By this time Honest Jack was in a state of perfect psychological preparation for what followed.

The cab stopped at the door of one of those super-solitary apartments where the hall door is opened by push-button from tenants' anxious look up and down the street, helped Kate down, and paid the taxi driver, who taxidrove away.

Kate paused to look for her key, and caught her just talking to a taxicab, and so home.

"My God! My husband's come home! He's waitin' for me. Looks like he's a gun! Run quick! Don't let him see you or he'll—Oh, run! run!"

And Honest Jack ran. As he ran, he had kept his hand on his waistcoat to keep the bundle of money from falling out. It did not fall. He moved closer to the next lamp post. His money was the carefully folded bill of fare he had seen the woman take for a souvenir.

While Kate had wept into his manly bosom she had completely unmanned him. Honest Jack ran all the way back and played scales on the push-button keyway till all the tenants were out in the hall and he slipped up from the basement. Honest Jack went his uncertain way, cursing the wickedness of the modern Babylon. Then they had fled together to a taxicab, and so home.

The next morning found Joe and Kate still laughing the inextinguishable laughter of successful thieves.

WITCHES' & PIRATES' STORY DEN

Frank Downing, 1933 68th ave., Oakland, Calif.

THE RESCUE OF QUEENIE.

I. Shawn was the captain of a band of robbers who in their den in the forest were planning to kidnap Queenie and hold her for ransom.

Queenie was the daughter of a millionaire and every morning before breakfast she rode through the forest. Queenie also was in love with a man named Bob. But Queenie's father would not allow her to have anything to do with him because his folks were so very poor.

Now, on this fatal morning as Queenie was riding thro' the forest one of Shawn's men came running up to Queenie and said, "Follow me, quick, Bob is hurt and needs help."

Queenie, not suspecting anything, quickly turned her horse and followed.

She was led far into the forest and up to the bandits' den where she was bound and thrown into a room alone.

The bandits then wrote a letter to Queenie's father, Mr. Aine, telling him to bring $25,000 to a certain place in the forest & Queenie would be released. They would give him three days to get the money, and if the money Queenie would be killed.

When Mr. Aine received the letter he put out rewards all over for the capture of the bandits & the rescue of his daughter.

When Bob heard about the capture of Queenie he got his two best chums, Chub & Tom & they went into the forest.

After wandering around they came to the bandits' den and seeing lights & hearing noises they knew that was the place they were looking for.

They found a nice place under a tree and sat down to wait for dark. Dark was not long in coming & the three boys cautiously got up & entered the den, each one with his revolver ready in case it should be needed.

They entered into a room where all the bandits were sleeping. They stepped over them being careful not to wake them. But they had not reached the door when one of the bandits awoke. Seeing the three men he quickly drew his revolver & shot so as to awaken the others. Then came the fight. But the three men had little chance against the 24 bandits.

Bob & his two friends were bound & thrown into a room alone. "Now what are we going to do?" asked Bob. "I'm sure I don't know," said Chub. "I wonder where the girl is?"

Tom working away at his hands soon had his feet free but try as hard as he could he could not release his hands. Then Tom soon managed to get on his feet, he walked around the room feeling the wall with his foot. He found a loose board and after kicking it away he found he could crawl through.

"Good bye boys," said Tom. "I'm going to crawl through here & see if I can get back home some way."

After about an hour the captain came in & seeing Tom gone a worried look came over his face because he knew if Tom got home he would be back with help.

He then left Chub & Bob & returned in about 15 minutes with a score of his men. They took the 2 boys into another room. In a few minutes they brought Queenie in all bound and laid her along side of them. They then stuffed papers around, lit a sad wick away.

Listen, World

First Party—Seen that Smith girl lately?

Second Party—Which Smith girl? Red-haired one or that low-legged one? I'm calling a far coat on the installment plan! Heard about that far coat, didn't I?

First Party—Uh—huh. Heard a lot more too. She's bought more'n a far coat this time or I miss my guess.

Second Party—How's that?

First Party—What? You don't mean to say you haven't heard?

Second Party—Not a word. What's happened? Stepping out, I suppose. Well, I always said—

First Party—Stepping out? Or say she had? You know that Wilkins boy?

Second Party—Not that Jim Wilkins? You don't mean to say she's running around with—

First Party—"Running around?" Well, if it was only THAT! She's certainly made a record this time! Second Party—But what is it? What's she doing?

First Party—Oh, nothing—nothing at all. Only come home the other night at 4:30 a.m. with young Wilkins. He had her in the machine and leaned out and there they were—plain as day. Of course she explained to everybody that their car broke down and they couldn't get in any sooner. But

Who says there is nothing new under the sun? Read this:

Dear Jerry:

I believe if I could get outside of my narrow cell and view myself as another might, my troubles would break and vanish like bubbles. But, Jerry, I can't seem to do this and I am asking your opinion and advice.

Five years ago I married the young man of my choice and now have a little girl nearly four. Shortly after our marriage my husband began neglecting me for other young girls and men and often refused to take me with them on their good times.

Of course he grew tired of me and Baby and could not seem to carry the responsibility of our support. So I put my babies to work and went to work. Unhappiness wrecks one's health and I was not immune. An operation followed and then work again after six weeks.

Six months ago he left us and secured a divorce, but I insisted on the custody of my baby and her board money.

Now, at intervals, he writes and even comes to see me, but after a few days he is gone again for no apparent reason. He sometimes says he cares for us but seems to forget so quickly.

I asked him to come back to us, but that he doesn't want to do. Still he misses us and wants to visit. Jerry, wouldn't it be better to refuse him admittance to our home and be doing the better of him? I have him for some inconceivable reason which, I believe, is keeping me in my misery. I have a hunch that I am a silly little fool. Please tell me if this is not so.

Sincerely, LOIS.

A Queer Problem

That's a queer letter, my dear. Divorce is usually the final chapter, but it doesn't seem to have settled anything in your case. It's very hard to advise without knowing anything of your respective psychologies.

I think an employer should apply for work. He either loves you or he doesn't. If he doesn't, the sooner you are quit of each other the better. If he does love you, he will want you all the more if you deny yourself to him save on a conventional, legal footing.

Keep up the good work, Jerry. I am for you all the time.

M. E. H.

Word of Encouragement

It's the sort of thing that keeps Jerry working on high! I'm 50 years old, but I feel like a kid.

Dear Jerry:

Was just reading your answer to "A He Provider Booster" and I can't improve it or add to it, so I want to do it in short and up and down every time they hand you that kind of talk. Jerry, walk on their necks and be sure the Gang is with you. Those sweet, pure creatures need a disinfectant for their poor minds. Keep up the good work, Jerry. I am for you all the time.

A BOOSTER FOR YOU.

W. H. It is against the law to print winning numbers in any "lottery." If you will write to the Information Bureau of the TRIBUNE, giving your name and address and asking for the information you want, the Bureau will be glad to mail you the numbers of the Shrine Circus winners.

CHICKEN FLOCKS DIE; MEAT SAID TO BE POISONED

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 8.—Sonoma county authorities have started an investigation into the alleged poisoning of poultry on ranches near Petaluma, which recently has resulted in the loss of several flocks.

A Hozz, the latest victim, reports the loss Saturday of more than 1000 pullets. He had turned them into a pen, and says that when he returned most of them were dead. Examination revealed that the fowls had eaten particles of poisoned meat.

Authorities are working on the theory that someone is distributing the poisoned scraps for spite.

Saionji May Accept Japan's Premiership
TOKYO, Nov. 8. (By the Associated Press).—Conferences of the Elder Statesmen continue in an effort to arrive at an agreement upon a successor to Premier Hara, who was assassinated Friday night.

The funeral of Hara yesterday was held at his residence and was attended only by personal friends. After the services, conducted by a Buddhist priest, the funeral cortege proceeded to the headquarters of the Saionji party, of which the late premier was the head, where the body was viewed by thousands.

Marquis Saionji is most prominently mentioned as Hara's successor. Others assert he will accept if urged by Field Marshal Prince Yamagata and given the privilege of making changes in the cabinet.

Judge Gives Boost To Heavenly Ambition

Superior Judge George Samuels is wearing an angelic expression and pricing haloes, and all because he has decided to give a fellow citizen a boost in his ambition to go to heaven.

It happened like this. Last week Peter Hahn, once a hard-boiled army supply sergeant, and looking the part, was taken before Judge Samuels, charged with passing a bad check. Leonard Comp-ton, probation officer, refused to recommend probation, declaring Hahn "a poor risk."

"Judge," said Hahn, "give me a chance. I want to go straight. I want to be a good man. I want to go to heaven. Don't send me away. Judge Samuels announced yesterday he would stand in no man's way to heavenly delight and will release Hahn on probation when his case is called Thursday.

Tender Gums —A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too.

Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infected the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

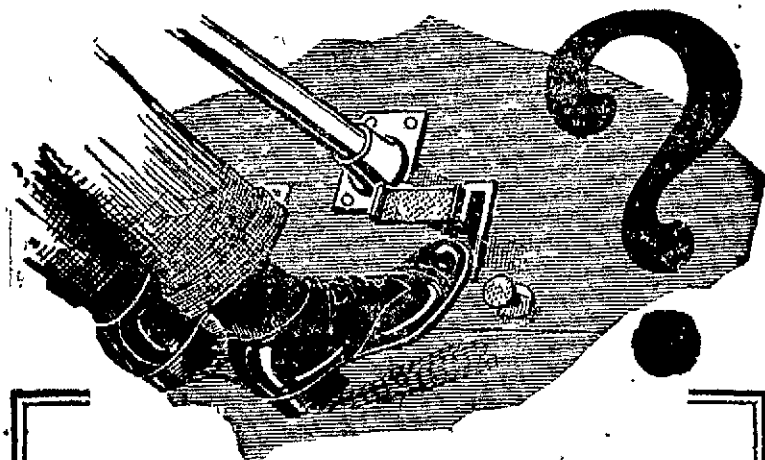

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It
Use it twice daily, year in and year out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gum shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

DEANS OF WOMEN
RESENT PUBLIC'S
PICTURE OF THEMDelegates to Berkeley Meet
Deny They're Prim, Stiff, Backed Censors.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Resentment at being pictured as prim censors of student morals was voiced this morning at the opening session of the second annual meeting of the western conference of deans of women held at the University of California.

More than a score of deans from the western universities, teachers' colleges and denominational schools joined in the meeting. The position of the dean of women was analyzed by Miss Lucy Stebbins of the University of California.

"The average public seems to picture the dean of women as a stuff-backed person who whips her college children and puts them to bed when the lights go out," declared Miss Stebbins. "The more sensible idea gives her the qualities of a mother. We are supposed to be responsible for the morals and the manners of the entire student body and faculty."

DESIRE FRIENDSHIP.

That the dean of women in an average institution does not desire to wield a repressive influence and that they desire merely to be friends, was the explanation of Miss Stebbins, who gave a lengthy discussion of the intricate problems confronting positions of that kind.

Miss Grace Berry, dean of women of Pomona College, presided over the conference.

"There's no monotony in a dean's job," she told the delegates. "There are few positions which demand so much individuality as that of dean." Miss Berry urged the delegates to strike a happy medium between becoming a "mere machine" and a person of too much individuality. The position of dean of women, she declared, was often misunderstood. Many holders of such positions, she said, many times had to fight their way over insurmountable obstacles.

GIRLS BETTER STUDENTS.

In welcoming the delegates in the absence of President Barrows, Henry R. Hatfield, dean of the faculty, declared that women of the University of California were better students than the men. "Women stand on the average a higher level of intellectual longing and a better standard of scholastic development than the average man," he said.

At noon the deans were entertained with student delegates at a luncheon given by the University Mothers' Club. This afternoon they were guests of Mrs. David P. Barrows, wife of the president, at dinner.

Will be given in their honor at Town and Gown clubhouse by the Women's Faculty Club of the University. Among those present are: Miss Pearl French, University of Utah; Mrs. Helen M. Laughlin and Miss Edith Wallop, the Southern Branch of the University of California; Miss

Nine Boys Perfect
In School Contest

ALAMEDA, Nov. 8.—Alameda has nine boys who made 100 per cent in the city school decathlon championship, according to announcement made yesterday afternoon by R. W. Snyder, physical director of the Alameda schools. Five events were included, comprising shooting 12 basketball goals in 30 seconds; pushup 15 times; sit up 12 times; soccer kick of 80 feet and a running hop, step and jump of 23 feet.

The nine who made perfect scores were Dave Simmons, Paul Esternoff, Willie Brandenburg, Ling King, Clarence Du Pont, Burton Kenner, and Fred Mendez of Washington school, Oscar Peron of Porter school and Ike Spackman of Haight schools.

Excesses She Says Are Injuring Nation.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—College girls of the Western Universities, assembled at the University of California Y. W. C. A. for the second day's session of their second annual conference, were warned this morning against "a too great enjoyment of life."

Dr. Ruby L. Cunningham, women's physician at the State University, was the speaker. Eighteen and twenty-hour days of work and pleasure, she declared, cause physical breakdown to the average college student. "This may constitute an enjoyment of life, but it is not a joy that lasts," she told the delegates. In pleading for a more balanced type of life, "Debauches" of study, Dr. Cunningham cited as another excess of college girls which should be abolished. "No good work can be accomplished in life," the university physician said, "without a big piece of rest in any program."

"To live a clean, healthy, moral life should be the greatest joy of every person," said the speaker. "Public health is the foundation of all happiness and power in any country. It is difficult to build upon a poor physical foundation the highest type of mental and spiritual requirements."

EXCESSES POINTED OUT.

The United States, said the speaker, was deteriorating physically as a result of the excesses of its people. These excesses, she pointed out, were not the result of ignorance, but followed a desire merely to get the greatest individual joy out of life, according to the modern way of reckoning pleasure. Dr. Cunningham also warned students against indulgence in "coffee jags" while in college, in an unusually hard piece of work. The effect of this stimulant, she said, would soon wear off, leaving the student in a weakened physical state.

That women students at western universities are not afraid to tackle any kind of work as a means of earning their way through college was disclosed at a conference this morning devoted to the problem of student employment. The delegates from the University of Southern California and Pomona led off the discussions, which held that a great percentage of women were either wholly or partially self-supporting.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY.

"We are proud of our students who are working their own ways through the university," was the statement of Miss Eloise Selbeck of the University of California. "We are happy to say also that there is no distinction between the students who work and the students who have funds to pay their way."

The relation of vocational training to the modest college course was also discussed, with Reed College leading the discussion. Following the morning session the students were the guests of the University Mothers' Club at a luncheon at Stiles Hall. This afternoon student government and women's participation in campus elections were the problems. At 4:20 o'clock the visiting college women were guests of David P. Barrows at a reception at the president's home.

COLLEGE WOMEN
URGE DEMOCRACY
IN UNIVERSITIESBanners of Social Distinction Attacked by Speakers in Berkeley Parley.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Democracy in American universities is sponsored by delegates to the Intercollegiate Conference being held at the university.

Plans to break down the barriers of social distinction, to get every girl registered at the university, to remove "pettiness" and campus politics from student activities were discussed at length.

Dormitories were advanced as a means toward developing the needs of all students was the message brought by Miss Madeline Steffen, who pictured a campus with no fraternities or sororities, no intercollegiate football and with athletics and activities for all students. She admitted, however, that methods used in handling the 300 students registered there might not be applied to larger institutions.

Affiliation by western universities with a national honor society for women students was urged by California's delegates as represented by Miss Helen Bell, Miss Frances Mason and Miss Kathryn Springborg as speakers.

Alleged unfair methods of electing students to honor societies were exposed by Miss Aryness Joy of the University of Washington, who declared that new methods should be devised.

College problems of interest principally to participants in campus life occupied the delegates yesterday. Miss Genevieve Betts of Oregon Agricultural college led a discussion of the "point" system, under which no college girl can enter into more than a specified number of activities.

A conference on honor societies was led by Miss Merle Kelso of Washington State college.

Is Your Name in Directory? Then
Tell Postmaster

HAVE you seen your name in the new City Directory now in use? The post office is much concerned about names and addresses, especially at this time, as the old directories will be discarded after November 15 and the new directory used exclusively. Unless the post office is informed of your present correct address your mail can not receive proper service.

The postmaster respectfully requests if your name does not appear in the new directory, that you call at the main office and register your name and address immediately, or ask the carrier for a pink card and fill it out, then mail in any street letter box. The post office department urges that you make this a very important business to attend to and your co-operation will be greatly appreciated, and make it possible for your mail to be properly and promptly handled.

Dress Simplicity at
Women's Conference

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Silks and satins, frills and furbelows are taboo at the college women's conference, which opened yesterday in Berkeley. Simplicity in dress marked the gathering. For the most part delegates appeared in neat suits, sports attire or one-piece wool dresses. Miss Olive Presler as presiding officer set the example to the delegates by appearing in a sport skirt and jacket, a white tailored waist and simple hat. Other California delegates were attired similarly. Pretty girls predominated in the visiting delegations. Brunettes outnumbered blondes by almost two to one. Whether coloring indicates brilliancy as a college student, the delegates refused to say.

Women's Auxiliary
In Legion Drive

ALAMEDA, Nov. 8.—The Women's Auxiliary of Alameda Post No. 9, American Legion, will formulate plans at the meeting this evening for assisting in the drive to locate the new headquarters of the legion in Alameda. The meeting will be held in Moose hall at 8 o'clock. The auxiliary has extended an invitation to relatives of men who were in service to be present. Following the business meeting a social hour will be held.

The new headquarters are to be in the old Woodmen's hall, Park street and Alameda avenue.

TWO SAILORS RUN DOWN BY AUTOIST,
WHO SPEEDS AWAYBerkeley Police Look for Big
Touring Car That Did Not Stop for Aid.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—The police are searching for a large touring car which ran down two sailors from Mare Island today and then disappeared without stopping to give aid.

The injured men are S. Moto and Kamasanatu Yamaguchi, Japanese, of the United States Navy. They were crossing San Pablo avenue at Darmouth street when the car, traveling at a high speed, struck them, knocking them both to the pavement, where they were later picked up by a passing machine and taken to the Keesling hospital, where it was found that they were suffering severe bruises and lacerations.

Soon after the accident the police were informed by a mysterious telephone call that two men had been run down at San Pablo and Darmouth, but the party refused to give his name. It is believed by the police that the man who telephoned was the driver of the touring car, the description of which was secured by the police.

Loot Boldly Hauled Away After Robbery

HAYWARD, Nov. 8.—Loot valued at more than $1500 was removed by thieves in an automobile truck. It is believed, from the Edwards' bicycle shop on Castro street, in the heart of the city, early this morning. The robbers apparently gained entrance by forcing a door. They removed twelve bicycles, a lathe and about $500 worth of accessories. Tracks of an automobile, leading from the front door of the plundered shop to Eighth street, lead police to believe that they operated with a truck.
